30-Year Reign As Film Idol Ends

Clark Gable, Movie King, Claimed By Heart Attack

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Clark Gable, the king of Hollywood, died Wednesday night from a heart attack in Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital.

He had been in the hospital since Nov. 6 when a heart attack felled the husky, 59-year-old actor at his suburban Encio ranch. Death came at 8 p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Doctors said he died peacefully —with only a few sleepy gasps and no apparent pain.

Ironically, death came after his best day since that first attack. He had eaten heartily at dinner, then chatted happily with his wife.

When Kay, his fifth wife, noticed him dozing again, she retired to her room across the hall. She was barely settled when she heard the nurse cry: "Come quick!"

Thus ended the 30-year reign of the king of Hollywood. Sadly, he never will see his first child due in March.

His impending fatherhood was the topic of his last conversation with his wife—and many earlier talks with her and others.

"He was more concerned about the effect of his illness on me and the baby than he was about himself," Kay related.

"I feel terrible doing this to you and the baby," he told her soon after he entered the hospital.

Gable had no previous history of heart trouble when the coronary thrombosis hit him at his 20-acre Encino ranch that Sunday morning 11 days ago.

"He was the healthiest man alive until that came," his wife said. "He hadn't even had a cold in the five years we've been married."

The blonde widow, under heavy sedation, was bearing up as well as could be expected under the shock.

I was the last newspaperman to talk to him. It was Friday, Nov. 4. He had just one more scene to shoot in a station wagon with Marilyn Monroe for "The Misfits."

"How ya, grandpa?" he grinned at me. I kidded him back:

"What's this. I used to be a fan of yours when I went to high school. Here I'm a new grandpa and you're about to become a papa for the first time."

"I always was a late starter," he laughed. Then he became serious.

"This is a dividend that has come to me late in life. When I wind up this picture, I'm taking

Nixon Nips Kennedy In California

Absentee Ballots Turn Trick 2 Weeks Following Election

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than a week after the election, Vice President Richard M. Nixon has captured California's 32 electoral votes. Absentee ballots did it, and helped to shave President-elect John F. Kennedy's nationwide popular vote lead to less than 200,000.

But even without Nixon's home state, Kennedy still is assured of 300 electoral votes, 31 more than the minimum needed for election.

Nixon also picked up votes Wednesday in official canvasses in Florida and North Carolina. Kennedy gained some in an official count in Indiana. These changes affected only the nationwide popular vote count.

Nixon, 33,674,382.

Kennedy's margin at this point was 197,097 votes out of more than 67½ million counted so far. His plurality figured at 50.15 per cent to 49.85 for Nixon.

Only 1,549 of the nation's voting precincts are still untabulated.

Kennedy could well wind up with less than a majority of all votes cast Nov. 8, counting minor party votes, even if he still led Nixon by a paper-thin margin.

A slate of unpledged electors in Mississippi rolled up 109,400 votes. Most minor party votes still are not tabulated, but incomplete returns from six states show a total of about 72,000.

Nixon's Prestige Boosted In Home State

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Absentee ballots spelled victory for Richard M. Nixon today in the tight race for California's 32 electoral votes, and heightened the vice president's prestige in his home state.

Switching the statewide unofficial count from the Democratic column did not alter the election of Democratic Sen. John F. Kennedy. But it choked off opposition jibes that Nixon couldn't even carry his native area.

Unofficial returns from all but 20,000 of 230,000 absentee ballots counted eight days after the polls closed gave the Republican presidential nominee a lead of 13,160.

He had trailed Kennedy throughout the regular count, but the absentee tally was: Nixon 132,186; Kennedy 84,458.

The uncounted 20,000 were mainly in Republican strongholds of San Diego and Orange Counties.

It appeared that only gross error exposed by the official canvass in some of the major counties could upset the Nixon victory. This seemed unlikely.

Los Angeles County, which Kennedy carried election day, gave Nixon 51,818 absentee votes to 30,529 for the president-elect.

Escaped New York Pair Near Imperial

2 Men Held In Abduction Of Steubenville Physician

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Two New York men were being held today on charges of kidnaping an Ohio doctor.

Dr. Ralph M. Rea, 39, said the men abducted him at gunpoint Wednesday morning in a parking lot at St. John's Hospital in Steubenville, Ohio.

Dr. Rea said they drove him into Pennsylvania, explaining they wanted him to treat a friend who had been shot. Dr. Rea said he escaped when they stopped the car in the vicinity of nearby Imperial to tie him up.

State police said Dr. Rea identified the men as the two who abducted him.

The doctor said Rizzo and Pizzuto got out of the car when they stopped. Dr. Rea said he noticed a hunter with a shotgun nearby. He said he grabbed one of the men and shouted for help. The hunter ran off. Eventually, the two men jumped in the car and drove away.

The doctor went to a farmhouse and phoned police, giving them a description of the men and the car.

State police captured the pair on U.S. 22 near Armagh, about 60 miles east of Imperial.

284,000 To Return In January

Part Of 7-Point Plan Aimed To Save On Spending Abroad

WASHINGTON (AP) — Under orders from President Eisenhower, the Defense Department will begin bringing home in January 284,000 wives and children of U.S. servicemen stationed abroad.

This return of dependents—more than half of all the armed forces dependents overseas — is part of a seven-point program instituted by the President to save an estimated billion dollars a year in American spending abroad.

The program will not cut total U. S. spending—only that part spent overseas. Some costs actually will go up as more expensive U. S. goods are bought and shipped abroad to replace much now purchased there.

In effect, the program imposes a strict "buy American" policy on the military services and the International Cooperation Administration, which handles foreign aid.

The gradual reduction of overseas dependents is to be at the rate of 15,000 a month. At least part of it will be accomplished by keeping wives and children in this country as new men are sent overseas. There is no present plan to cut back the number of servicemen abroad.

Announcing the drastic foreign spending curbs Wednesday night at Augusta, Ga., Eisenhower declared it is imperative to bring this country's outflow of dollars into better balance with its foreign income. The United States presently faces a 1960 deficit in "balance of payments" which could reach $4 billion.

The United States is selling abroad much more than it is buying there in commercial trade. But this balance is more than offset by heavy military and foreign aid expenditures in other countries and by private U. S. investments there. All these affect the balance of payments.

One purpose of the sweeping curbs is to maintain world confidence in the dollar, the President made clear. Another is to protect this country's $18-billion gold reserve against further shrinkage.

All agencies and departments of the federal government with foreign operations, including the State Department, were told by the President to determine what they could do toward economizing on foreign costs by returning dependents and where possible reducing personnel. Their plans together with those of the military services are to be in Eisenhower's hands by Dec. 15.

New pressure was ordered to break down remaining barriers of foreign countries against imports of U.S. goods. The object of this is to increase income from trade as well as to curtail expenditures abroad.

The decision to bring home the thousands of dependents was the most dramatic of the President's orders. The Defense Department said that the largest number of dependents are in four countries: Germany 195,218, Japan 56,589, France 41,952, Britain 38,147.

The rest of the 484,063 dependents now overseas are scattered in smaller groups in other countries. By services they include in total: Army 248,788, Air Force 197,438, and Navy and Marines 37,837.

The Defense Department estimated that overseas dependents spend an average of $1,000 each per year. Bringing home 284,000 of them thus would eventually cut $284 million a year from spending of U.S. dollars abroad.

Treasury and State Department officials said the total saving of the program once it is made fully effective should amount to a billion dollars or more in one to two years from now.

Explosive School Integration

Rowdyism, Rock-Throwing Mark New Orleans Crisis

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — White rowdyism by day and Negro rock-throwing by night brought new tension in New Orleans' explosive school intgration crisis.

Demonstrations by white youths against race mixing in schools sent police and fire engines racing over the city Wednesday. Negroes tossing rocks and bottles at cars and buses Wednesday night sent police on a dozen or more calls.

Fights between Negro and white youths in three neighborhoods and a cross burning on St. Charles Avenue were among 20 complaints investigated during the night.

The daytime demonstrations brought arrest of 59 persons, including three Negroes. Thirty-four additional arrests were made Wednesday night, including 31 Negroes.

Screaming teen-agers were dispersed Wednesday by fire hoses. Several persons were injured in scattered violence that included stabbing of a Negro and a gunshot wound for a white man. White youths cornered a policeman and gave him a severe beating. Four Negroes were beaten during the day by white men.

Shouting, jeering mobs made up mostly of truant high school youths roamed crowded downtown streets. Police prevented more than 1,000 demonstrators from reaching offices of the school board in the downtown section.

An unrelenting federal judge who ordered school integration ignored demands by some Louisiana legislators that he step aside.

U.S. District Judge J. Skelly Wright issued the integration order and enjoined the legislature and top state officials from attempts to prevent race mixing in schools.

The legislature in Baton Rouge had before it for action today a resolution asking Louisiana congressmen to use any means possible, including impeachment, in forcing Wright out of the picture.

Legislators said Wright's decrees were arrogant and unmerciful and showed disregard for other branches of government and an unwillingness to consider existing conditions.

Also before the State Senate is a House-approved proposal to stop payment of state funds to the new Orleans School Board, already in financial straits.

James F. Redmond, school superintendent, asked Gov. Jimmie H. Davis to advance enough money to meet payrolls for the next few days. Banks have refused to advance the money because of the cloudy legal situation resulting from ouster of four of the five school board members by the legislature. They were reinstated by federal edict.

Only two white children were seen Wednesday entering McDonogh No. 19, where three of the Negro children are in the first grade. Normal enrollment is 467. Few spectators were present and there were no boos or taunts.

Intake Wall Bid Action To Await Advice

Council At Chester To Seek Army Aid On Well Protection

Approval of a low bid of $15,295 for construction of a new intake retaining wall at Chester's upper pump station was delayed Wednesday night by Council in order to confer with U. S. Army Engineers concerning safeguards for the deep well pump during the project.

City Solicitor Ruth Cox Turner reported the Engineers Corps had approved the contract submitted by Hatcher Brothers Co. of Mingo Junction — lowest of three bidders.

However, Councilman Donald Hissam asked Tom Hatcher of the firm if the well would be cleaned and the pump protected from abrasive debris during the project.

Hatcher said he was not familiar with the methods planned for the work, but said his firm was reputable and his engineers would follow the proper procedure.

Hissam's questioning of Hatcher followed a 15-minute caucus called by the councilman after Mrs. Turner explained the contract provision.

Hissam, former water works superintendent, said his concern and that of Council's was that the water system be fully protected during the construction of the wall, which is designed to safeguard the pumping station facilities after the Ohio River pool rises once the Stratton Super-dam is completed.

Mrs. Turner was asked to arrange a meeting with the Army engineers tonight in order to determine if the proposed project could be handled with adequate protection to the pumps. Hatcher was asked to attend, and he said he would send his chief engineer.

Hatcher told Council he could begin work on or before Dec. 1 and would have the work completed by the end of the month.

The city must put up the money for the work for a period of up to 60 days, after which the Army will reimburse the city.

Coroner Sees Train Death As Accidental

Columbiana County Coroner William Kolozsi of Salem today tentatively ruled as accidental the death of a Pennsylvania man in a train-car crash at the Walnut St. crossing Monday, but said precautions should be developed to prevent a similar loss of life.

Dr. Kolozsi and Dr. R. C. Costello of East Liverpool, deputy coroner, held an informal inquest Wednesday in the death of Gerald W. Murray, 37, of Rockwood, who died at City Hospital six hours after the crash.

Mr. Murray was a passenger in an auto driven by Paul Clevenger, 23, of Markleton, Pa., who remains at City Hospital with injuries received in the collision of the Pennsylvania Railroad freight train and the 1950 sedan.

The coroner conferred with Clevenger, the train's engineer, Andrew Svartak of Cleveland, and others, and visited the crossing.

Dr. Kolozsi said the study revealed a dangerous condition at the crossing where a watchman is on day time duty.

He said there was no negligence on the part of any individual involved, but there "was a responsibility somewhere to provide better protection at the site."

The doctor said he talked with Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver, and said he is "encouraged" by the interest of Council and the administration to do something about the hazard.

Jury Convicts Man In 'Auto Assault' Case

Sentencing Delayed For D. E. Saunders In Hancock Court

After more than four hours deliberation Wednesday, a Hancock County Circuit Court jury returned a verdict of guilty in the "auto assault" case of a Wellsburg man charged with pinning a Waterford Park guard against a steel fence with his car June 26.

Judge J. Harold Brennan delayed sentencing of Saunders until Nov. 25 at 2 p. m. pending any motions for an appeal.

The jury returned the verdict at 2:50 yesterday afternoon. The panel had two other alternatives in returning a verdict — guilty of unlawful assault but not malicious assault, or innocent.

The malicious assault charge carries a penalty of 2 to 10 years in prison.

Saunders was convicted of ramming his auto into Yurka last summer near the track's stable gate and pinning him against a 4-foot high "cyclone" fence. Yurka was badly injured and walked with a noticeable limp when he testified in the trial, which opened Monday at New Cumberland.

Saunders, represented by Atty. William Conklin of Chester and Atty. Vito Catanero of Weirton, claimed that he was rendered senseless after the argument by blows from Yurka's nightstick and was unable to remember driving his auto into the guard.

The pair argued after Yurka took away Saunders' track sticker which he had not pasted to his windshield as required by Waterford Park.

To Chart Administration Course

Kennedy, Johnson Relax As They Go Deer Hunting

Johnson drove his big white limousine out of the main gate of his ranch at 6:55 a.m., with Kennedy in the front seat beside him. Two men were in the back and all four were dressed in rough clothing. No gun was in sight, however.

The president-elect and the voters' choice for vice president scheduled an intensive round of talks after an initial two-hour conference which they had Wednesday evening shortly after Kennedy's arrival from Palm Beach, Fla.

The place was the cozy living room of Johnson's 100-year-old rambling home on the LBJ Ranch of 300 acres through which runs the picturesque Pedernales River.

Johnson gave the youthful president-elect a brief tour of the ranch in the dark on the way to the house Wednesday night. And today there was a possibility of some deer hunting.

Later in the day House Speaker Sam Rayburn planned to travel from his home at Bonham, Tex., to join with Kennedy and Johnson in talks mapping the executive branch switch of power from Republican hands in January.

Still later today, Gov. Price Daniel of Texas, and perhaps other Democratic leaders of the state are expected to be on hand for a round of socializing before Kennedy starts back to Palm Beach.

There was no definite advance word on whether Kennedy and Johnson would hold a news conference or put out a statement on their discussions at the end of the day.

Kennedy flew from Florida by charter jet airliner to Bergstrom Air Force Base near Austin, Tex., about 65 miles east of the LBJ Ranch. He transferred at Bergstrom to a small plane for the flight to the Texas' senator's ranch.

It was the first time Kennedy and Johnson had met since their election victory last week over Richard M. Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge.

Johnson, casually informal in Western clothes from 10-gallon hat to Texas boots, was waiting alongside the plane when the door swung open. He and his wife, Lady Bird, went aboard and exchanged first greetings with Kennedy there.

Johnson presented a 10-gallon hat to the president-elect who held it gingerly—a bit incongrously in his pin-striped business suit —and smilingly but firmly rejected the pleas of photographers that he put it on.

"I'll wear it tomorrow morning," Kennedy promised. "We'll have an unveiling then."

At the field stone and white frame ranch house, the two men talked alone for two hours before dinner.

A spokesman reported afterwards that the discussion dealt with "problems which face the country at this time."

There was no elaboration.

Los Angeles Paralyzed By Transit Strike

The city's buses and streetcars were idled by a strike.

And on the streets where traffic normally flowed, cars stood bumper to bumper and curb to curb. Smog producing vapors poured from rumbling exhaust pipes. A few honked. Police whistles tooted.

But no cars moved. They couldn't. The reason: Too many of them.

Efforts to restore public transportation for 750,000 daily riders were under way on a dozen fronts. But both the striking Amalgamated Transportation Union and the struck Metropolitan Transit Authority said they will turn to the courts to fight it out, and no immediate settlement appeared in prospect.

The strike was called by MTA mechanics Wednesday to enforce contract demands. Other MTA workers observed the mechanics' picket lines, and the one big transit system serving Los Angeles and three adjoining counties was paralyzed.

Police broke up at least two fistfights that developed when carlot attendants, trying to save space for regular customers, angered motorists desperate for a place to park.

Community Fund Rises To 29 Per Cent Of Goal

Total collections in the annual Community Fund drive rose to $23,992 today, which means the campaign has attained 29 per cent of its $82,368 goal, William A. Black, campaign chairman, reported.

Today's new report represents a gain of $9,049 since Monday, when the fund stood at $14,943, Black pointed out. He credited the sharp gain to a reminder given fund workers to make their rounds and submit reports as soon as possible.

The new total will be placed this afternoon on the huge "thermometer" on the Diamond that helps keep the public apprised of the drive's progress.

Black praised the drive workers for the redoubled effort that sent the collections soaring in the last two days. He said another report will be issued next Monday.

Churchill Cheerful Despite Back Injury

10 Business Places Destroyed By Blaze

JEFFERSON, Ohio (AP) — Ten business places were swept by an early morning fire today, but no casualties were reported.

The cause was not learned immediately. There was no estimate of the property loss, but unofficial reports indicated it would reach several hundred thousand dollars.

Deputy sheriff V. W. Bellows said a night watchman reported the flames were first spotted about 6 a. m. in a building which had just been remodelled for use as a grocery store. It had been partly stocked.

284,000 To Return In January

Part Of 7-Point Plan Aimed To Save On Spending Abroad

WASHINGTON (AP) — Under orders from President Eisenhower, the Defense Department will begin bringing home in January 284,000 wives and children of U.S. servicemen stationed abroad.

This return of dependents—more than half of all the armed forces dependents overseas — is part of a seven-point program instituted by the President to save an estimated billion dollars a year in American spending abroad.

The program will not cut total U. S. spending—only that part spent overseas. Some costs actually will go up as more expensive U. S. goods are bought and shipped abroad to replace much now purchased there.

In effect, the program imposes a strict "buy American" policy on the military services and the International Cooperation Administration, which handles foreign aid.

The gradual reduction of overseas dependents is to be at the rate of 15,000 a month. At least part of it will be accomplished by keeping wives and children in this country as new men are sent overseas. There is no present plan to cut back the number of servicemen abroad.

Announcing the drastic foreign spending curbs Wednesday night at Augusta, Ga., Eisenhower declared it is imperative to bring this country's outflow of dollars into better balance with its foreign income. The United States presently faces a 1960 deficit in "balance of payments" which could reach $4 billion.

The United States is selling abroad much more than it is buying there in commercial trade. But this balance is more than offset by heavy military and foreign aid expenditures in other countries and by private U. S. investments there. All these affect the balance of payments.

One purpose of the sweeping curbs is to maintain world confidence in the dollar, the President made clear. Another is to protect this country's $18-billion gold reserve against further shrinkage.

All agencies and departments of the federal government with foreign operations, including the State Department, were told by the President to determine what they could do toward economizing on foreign costs by returning dependents and where possible reducing personnel. Their plans together with those of the military services are to be in Eisenhower's hands by Dec. 15.

New pressure was ordered to break down remaining barriers of foreign countries against imports of U.S. goods. The object of this is to increase income from trade as well as to curtail expenditures abroad.

The decision to bring home the thousands of dependents was the most dramatic of the President's orders. The Defense Department said that the largest number of dependents are in four countries: Germany 195,218, Japan 56,589, France 41,952, Britain 38,147.

The rest of the 484,063 dependents now overseas are scattered in smaller groups in other countries. By services they include in total: Army 248,788, Air Force 197,438, and Navy and Marines 37,837.

The Defense Department estimated that overseas dependents spend an average of $1,000 each per year. Bringing home 284,000 of them thus would eventually cut $284 million a year from spending of U.S. dollars abroad.

Treasury and State Department officials said the total saving of the program once it is made fully effective should amount to a billion dollars or more in one to two years from now.

To Chart Administration Course

Kennedy, Johnson Relax As They Go Deer Hunting

Johnson drove his big white limousine out of the main gate of his ranch at 6:55 a.m., with Kennedy in the front seat beside him. Two men were in the back and all four were dressed in rough clothing. No gun was in sight, however.

The president-elect and the voters' choice for vice president scheduled an intensive round of talks after an initial two-hour conference which they had Wednesday evening shortly after Kennedy's arrival from Palm Beach, Fla.

The place was the cozy living room of Johnson's 100-year-old rambling home on the LBJ Ranch of 300 acres through which runs the picturesque Pedernales River.

Johnson gave the youthful president-elect a brief tour of the ranch in the dark on the way to the house Wednesday night. And today there was a possibility of some deer hunting.

Later in the day House Speaker Sam Rayburn planned to travel from his home at Bonham, Tex., to join with Kennedy and Johnson in talks mapping the executive branch switch of power from Republican hands in January.

Still later today, Gov. Price Daniel of Texas, and perhaps other Democratic leaders of the state are expected to be on hand for a round of socializing before Kennedy starts back to Palm Beach.

There was no definite advance word on whether Kennedy and Johnson would hold a news conference or put out a statement on their discussions at the end of the day.

Kennedy flew from Florida by charter jet airliner to Bergstrom Air Force Base near Austin, Tex., about 65 miles east of the LBJ Ranch. He transferred at Bergstrom to a small plane for the flight to the Texas' senator's ranch.

It was the first time Kennedy and Johnson had met since their election victory last week over Richard M. Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge.

Johnson, casually informal in Western clothes from 10-gallon hat to Texas boots, was waiting alongside the plane when the door swung open. He and his wife, Lady Bird, went aboard and exchanged first greetings with Kennedy there.

Johnson presented a 10-gallon hat to the president-elect who held it gingerly—a bit incongrously in his pin-striped business suit —and smilingly but firmly rejected the pleas of photographers that he put it on.

"I'll wear it tomorrow morning," Kennedy promised. "We'll have an unveiling then."

At the field stone and white frame ranch house, the two men talked alone for two hours before dinner.

A spokesman reported afterwards that the discussion dealt with "problems which face the country at this time."

There was no elaboration.

Los Angeles Paralyzed By Transit Strike

The city's buses and streetcars were idled by a strike.

And on the streets where traffic normally flowed, cars stood bumper to bumper and curb to curb. Smog producing vapors poured from rumbling exhaust pipes. A few honked. Police whistles tooted.

But no cars moved. They couldn't. The reason: Too many of them.

Efforts to restore public transportation for 750,000 daily riders were under way on a dozen fronts. But both the striking Amalgamated Transportation Union and the struck Metropolitan Transit Authority said they will turn to the courts to fight it out, and no immediate settlement appeared in prospect.

The strike was called by MTA mechanics Wednesday to enforce contract demands. Other MTA workers observed the mechanics' picket lines, and the one big transit system serving Los Angeles and three adjoining counties was paralyzed.

Police broke up at least two fistfights that developed when carlot attendants, trying to save space for regular customers, angered motorists desperate for a place to park.

Churchill Cheerful Despite Back Injury

Community Fund Rises To 29 Per Cent Of Goal

Total collections in the annual Community Fund drive rose to $23,992 today, which means the campaign has attained 29 per cent of its $82,368 goal, William A. Black, campaign chairman, reported.

Today's new report represents a gain of $9,049 since Monday, when the fund stood at $14,943, Black pointed out. He credited the sharp gain to a reminder given fund workers to make their rounds and submit reports as soon as possible.

The new total will be placed this afternoon on the huge "thermometer" on the Diamond that helps keep the public apprised of the drive's progress.

Black praised the drive workers for the redoubled effort that sent the collections soaring in the last two days. He said another report will be issued next Monday.

Intake Wall Bid Action To Await Advice

Council At Chester To Seek Army Aid On Well Protection

Approval of a low bid of $15,295 for construction of a new intake retaining wall at Chester's upper pump station was delayed Wednesday night by Council in order to confer with U. S. Army Engineers concerning safeguards for the deep well pump during the project.

City Solicitor Ruth Cox Turner reported the Engineers Corps had approved the contract submitted by Hatcher Brothers Co. of Mingo Junction — lowest of three bidders.

However, Councilman Donald Hissam asked Tom Hatcher of the firm if the well would be cleaned and the pump protected from abrasive debris during the project.

Hatcher said he was not familiar with the methods planned for the work, but said his firm was reputable and his engineers would follow the proper procedure.

Hissam's questioning of Hatcher followed a 15-minute caucus called by the councilman after Mrs. Turner explained the contract provision.

Hissam, former water works superintendent, said his concern and that of Council's was that the water system be fully protected during the construction of the wall, which is designed to safeguard the pumping station facilities after the Ohio River pool rises once the Stratton Super-dam is completed.

Mrs. Turner was asked to arrange a meeting with the Army engineers tonight in order to determine if the proposed project could be handled with adequate protection to the pumps. Hatcher was asked to attend, and he said he would send his chief engineer.

Hatcher told Council he could begin work on or before Dec. 1 and would have the work completed by the end of the month.

The city must put up the money for the work for a period of up to 60 days, after which the Army will reimburse the city.

Coroner Sees Train Death As Accidental

Columbiana County Coroner William Kolozsi of Salem today tentatively ruled as accidental the death of a Pennsylvania man in a train-car crash at the Walnut St. crossing Monday, but said precautions should be developed to prevent a similar loss of life.

Dr. Kolozsi and Dr. R. C. Costello of East Liverpool, deputy coroner, held an informal inquest Wednesday in the death of Gerald W. Murray, 37, of Rockwood, who died at City Hospital six hours after the crash.

Mr. Murray was a passenger in an auto driven by Paul Clevenger, 23, of Markleton, Pa., who remains at City Hospital with injuries received in the collision of the Pennsylvania Railroad freight train and the 1950 sedan.

The coroner conferred with Clevenger, the train's engineer, Andrew Svartak of Cleveland, and others, and visited the crossing.

Dr. Kolozsi said the study revealed a dangerous condition at the crossing where a watchman is on day time duty.

He said there was no negligence on the part of any individual involved, but there "was a responsibility somewhere to provide better protection at the site."

The doctor said he talked with Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver, and said he is "encouraged" by the interest of Council and the administration to do something about the hazard.

10 Business Places Destroyed By Blaze

JEFFERSON, Ohio (AP) — Ten business places were swept by an early morning fire today, but no casualties were reported.

The cause was not learned immediately. There was no estimate of the property loss, but unofficial reports indicated it would reach several hundred thousand dollars.

Deputy sheriff V. W. Bellows said a night watchman reported the flames were first spotted about 6 a. m. in a building which had just been remodelled for use as a grocery store. It had been partly stocked.

Jury Convicts Man In 'Auto Assault' Case

Sentencing Delayed For D. E. Saunders In Hancock Court

After more than four hours deliberation Wednesday, a Hancock County Circuit Court jury returned a verdict of guilty in the "auto assault" case of a Wellsburg man charged with pinning a Waterford Park guard against a steel fence with his car June 26.

Judge J. Harold Brennan delayed sentencing of Saunders until Nov. 25 at 2 p. m. pending any motions for an appeal.

The jury returned the verdict at 2:50 yesterday afternoon. The panel had two other alternatives in returning a verdict — guilty of unlawful assault but not malicious assault, or innocent.

The malicious assault charge carries a penalty of 2 to 10 years in prison.

Saunders was convicted of ramming his auto into Yurka last summer near the track's stable gate and pinning him against a 4-foot high "cyclone" fence. Yurka was badly injured and walked with a noticeable limp when he testified in the trial, which opened Monday at New Cumberland.

Saunders, represented by Atty. William Conklin of Chester and Atty. Vito Catanero of Weirton, claimed that he was rendered senseless after the argument by blows from Yurka's nightstick and was unable to remember driving his auto into the guard.

The pair argued after Yurka took away Saunders' track sticker which he had not pasted to his windshield as required by Waterford Park.

Water Shutoff Set To Collect Bills

Some 214 delinquent water customers in Chester were given notice Wednesday night to pay up on their bills by Jan. 10 or face a shut off in service.

Councilman W. F. Bishop advised Council a total of $4,392 was due the city in water bills—one-seventh of the some 1,400 customers in the city being delinquent. Some bills of domestic users ranged as high as $75, he said.

Zishop said bills will be sent out at the end of the quarter, listing the unpaid balance for those who are delinquent, and unless the bills are paid by Jan. 10, the water works employes will terminate the service or a suit will be filed.

"This may seem harsh." Bishop explained, "but no concern can go on with an outstanding indebtedness of over $4,000."

City Man Sentenced To Year's Jail Term

Freeman Evans, 55, of 1038 Bank St. was sentenced to a year in the County Jail and fined $150 at a hearing before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin Wednesday on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of minors.

He was arrested in October on complaint of his wife, who said he had been associating with two Chester girls, 14 and 15.

Police found the pair in his car and he was cited to Juvenile Court. The older girl was sentenced to the Girls Industrial School at Delaware and the younger was warned to stay out of Columbiana County.

Sen. Case Says Early Action Due On Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Clifford P. Case, (R-N.J.), said today a bipartisan Senate group will start maneuvering the first day of the new Congress to enact civil rights legislation.

Case told reporters he and other Republicans who want broader federal laws to protect rights of Negroes and other minorities will develop their strategy in meetings here next month. He said they also planned to reach an alliance with Northern Democratic senators sharing their views.

The first move, he said, will be to challenge as soon as Congress convenes Jan. 3 a Senate rule adopted early in 1958. It provides that a time limit on Senate debate—death knell to a filibuster—can be imposed by not less than two-thirds of those present and voting.

Win or lose on that issue, Case said, the group will press later for legislation to fulfill civil rights campaign pledges in the Republican and Democratic platforms.

Case expressed confidence President-elect John F. Kennedy will throw his weight behind the drive for more civil rights legislation. "I would be surprised and deeply disappointed if he did not," the senator said.

City Man Sentenced To Year's Jail Term

Freeman Evans, 55, of 1038 Bank St. was sentenced to a year in the County Jail and fined $150 at a hearing before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin Wednesday on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of minors.

He was arrested in October on complaint of his wife, who said he had been associating with two Chester girls, 14 and 15.

Police found the pair in his car and he was cited to Juvenile Court. The older girl was sentenced to the Girls Industrial School at Delaware and the younger was warned to stay out of Columbiana County.

Sen. Case Says Early Action Due On Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Clifford P. Case, (R-N.J.), said today a bipartisan Senate group will start maneuvering the first day of the new Congress to enact civil rights legislation.

Case told reporters he and other Republicans who want broader federal laws to protect rights of Negroes and other minorities will develop their strategy in meetings here next month. He said they also planned to reach an alliance with Northern Democratic senators sharing their views.

The first move, he said, will be to challenge as soon as Congress convenes Jan. 3 a Senate rule adopted early in 1958. It provides that a time limit on Senate debate—death knell to a filibuster—can be imposed by not less than two-thirds of those present and voting.

Win or lose on that issue, Case said, the group will press later for legislation to fulfill civil rights campaign pledges in the Republican and Democratic platforms.

Case expressed confidence President-elect John F. Kennedy will throw his weight behind the drive for more civil rights legislation. "I would be surprised and deeply disappointed if he did not," the senator said.

Chester Couple Observes 50th Date Of Wedding

The 59th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Melot of Orion Ave., Chester, was observed Sunday with a buffet dinner at the home.

Mr. and Mrs. Mellot were married Nov. 12, 1910, at the parsonage of the Baptist Church at 2nd and Carolina Ave., now the home of a daughter, Mrs. Richard Parsons, of Pennsylvania Ave. The Rev. R. C. Cost officiated.

On Saturday, the anniversary date, a grandson, William Parsons, and Miss Sharon Haddox of Newell were married at the First Christian Church by the Rev. Earliss Gleaton. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Parsons, and she is the daughter of Mrs. Maude Boyles of Newell.

At the Sunday dinner, the table was arranged on an Army-Navy cloth of linen and lace with brass candelabra and golden tapers. A three-tiered golden umbrella was hung with tiny wedding bells, and a large cake, decorated with golden motifs, centered the table.

The couple has four sons, Robert Mellot of Huntington, Earl Mellot of McKeesport, Wilbur Mellot at home and Dale Mellot of Chester, and four daughters, Mrs. Parsons, Mrs. Audrea Killian of Baltimore, Mrs. Earl Pittenger of Chester and Mrs. Mildred Lutton of Carteret, N. J.

Six of the eight were present Sunday, along with 17 of the 20 grandchildren.

Student Riots In New Orleans

What is happening in New Orleans as the result of token integration is no cause for outsiders to strike an attitude of pursed-lip disapproval.

What is happening in New Orleans could happen anywhere in the United States if the same circumstances existed—and not only a school policy dispute.

The chief circumstance in New Orleans is the uncontrollability of teen-agers who have formed mobs to defy the New Orleans police, to thwart the orderly processes of law and, worst of all, to put into action the hatreds of their elders.

No one needs to be told that these teen-age mobs are not fairly representative of New Orleans. Neither are the jeering, abusive adults who are egging on the mobs by their own undisciplined behavior.

ALL THESE PEOPLE are misrepresenting New Orleans, just as Louisiana politicians are misrepresenting Louisiana.

The point, aside from the never-ending argument over segregation, is what makes it possible for mobs of teen-agers to form and to roam the streets in one of the country's great cities. The point is what makes it possible for this sort of thing to happen in any American city.

There have been student riots in New York City. Teachers and policemen have been injured. There have been student riots in other cities. Here is a new and ugly phenomenon appearing in the United States — children struggling with policemen, sometimes with the consent and active cooperation of their own parents.

No more fearful thing could be imagined in a free country than this kind of undisciplined juvenile behavior. Here is the whirlwind harvest of decades of degeneration in the discipline of the young that is the cornerstone of freedom.

There isn't a teen-ager in New Orleans or in any other city who has any right to raise his hand or his voice in protest against an official decision.

IN THE TENSE SITUATION that has developed in New Orleans over token integration in the schools, there isn't a teen-ager who should be permitted to roam the streets. These children should be in school or at home. If they have no parents, they should be controlled by public authority.

Nothing is going to be proved about token integration in New Orleans one way or the other. That's a tired, threadbare issue that is beginning to bore even the stoutest states' righters.

The thing to be proved in New Orleans is whether or not prejudice, hatred, insubordination and malice have so poisoned the minds of the city's teen-agers that they cannot be handled—or manhandled if necessary.

Every city is wondering about that.

Student riots, once a symptom of social sickness in disorderly countries, have appeared in the United States. They are a grim omen.

Is Do-It-Yourselfism Dead?

Among all the other rare or unprecedented aspects of John F. Kennedy's election to the presidency is the fact that his previous governmental experience was entirely in the United States Congress.

Only Warren G. Harding before him had been elevated directly from the Senate to the White House, and before the national conventions last July the pundits still were saying that the legislative platform was not the most promising springboard for the would-be chief executive.

But 1960 seems to have put a different light on this.

Richard Scammon, an expert in election analysis for the Governmental Research Institute of Washington, said the other day that the most surprising thing to him about last week's returns was that a governorship appears to have become more a jumping-off place for political oblivion than the traditional launching pad for a try at the White House or some other high office.

MR. SCAMMON pointed out that of 27 gubernatorial offices at stake, 13 changed political hands. At the heart of a good many of those switches appeared to be a paradoxical situation.

If a governor responds to public demand for increased or improved state services by putting through tax increases to pay for them, he finds himself in hot water with the voters the next time he puts his career on the block.

Assuming this is the case, it would lead future governors to one of two alternatives: Ignore public demand for more and better services, pretending there are no problems, or respond to the demand by going to the federal government for the money.

Since the growth problems of a healthy, expanding state can be hidden or sat on only so long, the latter course is far more likely.

And this in turn would give the politicos in Washington the impression of an ever-increasing mandate from the hinterlands for more federal aid for education, more federal aid for highways, more federal aid for mental and physical health, more federal aid for welfare.

BUT NO MONEY comes from the federal coffers without strings attached, and the strings serve to bind tighter and tighter the hands of state and local governments in guiding their own affairs.

It is a truism that voters frequently squash the taxing proposals closest to home because their opportunity to step on the federal hand reaching for their money seems so remote.

But it is also a truism that the federal hand is going to keep reaching deeper into the taxpayers' pockets unless the taxpayers respond more willingly than they sometimes have to state and local efforts to raise the money needed at home without relying on the pseudo-generosity of the federal government.

Has Fidel Read George Orwell?

If you've wondered about Cuba lately, the people down there are being told by Fidel Castro that his government has saved them from invasion by the United States.

All ball games and other events were called off the other night so the head man could tell his followers on radio and television that they could thank him and his associates for saving them from the awful Americans. Standing by him while he thumped his chest as the savior of Cuba was a delegation from Communist China.

This incident is reported to be puzzling the Cubans. They cannot understand why they were stirred up to a screaming pitch by the threat of an invasion that apparently was turned aside with so little effort. But, naturally, they're for safety and security. The big bad wolf must be held at bay. Every Cuban must be willing to defend Cuba against the threat of American invasion.

It sounds almost as if the Cubans were having that presidential election which Castro never has been in a mood to give them.

Castro is, after all, a man who knows his way around — a well-read man qualified to practice law if he ever tires of practicing politics. And it could be that one of the books he has read is George Orwell's "1984."

That's the one in which Orwell invented Big Brother, the "thing" that is always watching everybody through television monitors mounted in every nook and cranny.

Big Brother was a figment made up to fool the people — the ultimate political image. The threats of invasion that Orwell's imaginary superstate of 1984 kept talking about to spur the proletariat — the "proles" — into ever-greater effort were figments too.

There was always a war going on somewhere that required sacrifice, always an enemy to be hated, always a rally cry to hold the "proles" together like herded sheep. No one knew who the enemy was, where the war was being fought, or who was threatening to invade the country — but the main thing in "1984" was to fool all the people all the time.

Yes, Fidel Castro undoubtedly has read Orwell's "1984."

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

With Jack Kennedy in Palm Beach or Texas, Dick Nixon down around Florida Keys, Marilyn Miller in Reno or nearly so, and Arthur Miller in bachelor quarters, the American picture is pretty well cleared up.

Whether Marilyn lost to Arthur or Arthur lost to Marilyn will not be known for some time as returns from many precincts are still missing. Brush-fire war between the famous couple had long been reported. The fact it was revealed so soon after the election helped the Republican claim that Democrats couldn't do any more for a durable peace than anybody else.

The marriage had lasted four years, which is pretty good distance for two people under the handicap of fame, talent, riches, luxury living and top publicity.

The groom hadn't written a Broadway play since 1955. It must have been hard to give the typewriter and dramatic ideas full attention when a chick like Marilyn was around the house.

GEORGE ALLEN resigned as U. S. Information Bureau head to take a job as president of Tobacco Institute. He is quitting "Hellzapoppin" for "Tobacco Road."

Yale-Princeton game this year restored the glamor excitement and prestige of the old days in Yale Bowl for many people but TV, supposedly a great judge of wonderful shows, paid no attention. It was a de luxe autumn day with historic game providing everything in color sport, fun and drama.

All kinds of reasons were given for stock market behavior. This week we heard a fellow blame it on the Miller - Marilyn Monroe crisis.

Unemployment figures have jumped, and why not with so many Republicans thrown out of work? Now that Bob McNamara has been made president of Ford Motors would you call his associates "McNamara's Band"?

America's amusement madness is now so recognized that one big New York department store takes half of its full page ad now with news of Broadway shows . . . The other day a dramatic review, with photos, topped all mention of dry goods.

Most folks hate to see Henry Cabot Lodge out of work. He gave up a big salary as U.S. chief in the United Nations and was doing such a good job that only Khrushchev can enjoy his unemployment.

Three chimpanzees were put to work in a Texas furniture factory stuffing foam-rubber pillows and doing other easily taught tasks. They may strike for a two-coconut day and a satisfactory peanut quota.

The average person lives about one-sixth of his life with a stopped heart. The heart takes a rest after every beat, standing still for about one-sixth of a second.

Well, There's Always A Chance

Kennedy Plans Action On Crime

By Victor Riesel

The exact words from the policy-making sanctum of John F. Kennedy on smashing the mob, its multi-million dollar mulcting of labor and industry are — "This will get the highest, repeat, the highest, priority after the inauguration."

Victor Riesel

The President-elect will direct the fight on the underworld just as the government, in the past, has fought the undercover world — the internal Communists. But the Brothers Kennedy do not believe that there now is available inside the federal government an agency equipped to make that fight.

Thus, within a few weeks after Jan. 20, John F. Kennedy can be expected to ask the Senate to "make a thorough study of the matter with the view to determining the most feasible and effective way of meeting the problem" of fighting syndicated crime.

Both Robert and John Kennedy believe that despite many honest local police departments, the only effective war on the mob can be fought by a "National Crime Commission."

THERE ARE THOSE who make the point on this anniversary week of the Apalachin crime convention that despite arrests, the national underworld conclaves have been held with disdainful regularity.

The most recent nose-thumbing criminal gathering was called to order in eastern Canada, just north of the border, last month. The great Apalachin crime cookout, which never did get to the steaks, was broken up by New York State Police on Nov. 14, 1957.

John Kennedy will ask the Senate to advise him on whether there should be a new federal agency or the extension of one of the older operations. His preference is a new commission.

The President-elect is aware that FBI director J. Edgar Hoover is opposed to such a national crime information center. On this, there have been and there will continue to be conferences between Robert Kennedy and Hoover.

This would also mean finding a chief of operations for the new central agency on criminal information — and there is no doubt that high on Kennedy's list is Harry F. Anslinger, director of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics.

THAT'S LOGICAL. Much of the mob's activity has been tied to the heavy opium money. So a knowledge of the dope trade means a deep knowledge of the intricacies of the underworld.

John F. Kennedy said recently that a new National Crime Commission would "gather information on the top criminal leaders of the country, keep a close surveillance on their activities, and disseminate their information to local and state law enforcement agencies. It would not have law enforcement powers but merely act as a factor or intelligence gathering agency."

ON ANOTHER FRONT, there has been fascinated interest in the President-elect's reaction to the often brutal attacks on the Kennedys by Jim Hoffa. There will be no Hatfield-McCoy feud. John Kennedy will simply not dignify the fellow with a vendetta.

There simply will be orders to the new attorney general to give the vast McClellan committee testimony a real vacuuming.

There will be a review of every one of the scores of cases sent to the Justice Department over the past three years by the committee's former counsel Kennedy and its chairman.

Every case, including those which went into court, will be gone over for additional evidence. Many of these reviews will include testimony involving Hoffa.

Not to be overlooked is the special Grand Jury which has been sitting in Orlando, Fla. probing into the Sun Valley real estate operation in which Hoffa had such an interest.

It will be a very busy season for all the boys, not just Jim Hoffa.

Minority Of One

By Truman Twill

Never have I felt so lonely as I feel after the great 1960 national election.

It has dawned on me with the same impact as the realization that Nellie Rockefeller can't deliver New York that at last I have become what I have been a long time in the process of becoming.

I am a minority of one.

No one will lick my toes to get my vote. It isn't worth it.

No pollster bird-dogs me to see what I am thinking because my thinking is of no consequence.

I am not a member of a special interest group.

It never occurs to anyone to think of me as part of a pressure bloc.

There is no speculation about what I am going to do for the good reason that it is of no importance.

I speak only for myself. I influence no one.

No ethnic, religious, or economic factors influence me or vice versa.

I am not typical of anything.

They can't even get rid of me by writing me off as an independent and thereafter treating me as if I were a fallen leaf, blown hither and yon by the gusty oratory of the political windbags.

I am not independent. Neither am I a captive.

When I get peeved, I can take out my anger on every candidate of one party, then turn around and do the same thing to the other party if it makes me sore.

My religion is my own business, just the way it says in the Constitution, and I believe it must be the same with everybody else, even the "martyrs." But this, too, takes the zing out of me, because I cannot be appealed to or against in the area of religious belief.

Matter of fact, I cannot be appealed to in any area of belief. I even refuse to associate myself with the wool industry, although I raise sheep. I own and operate my own dump, and here again I stand alone. I do not go along with the dumpmen of America when they lobby for more dumping.

I work for a living, but that doesn't make me mad at the people who hire me. I live in the North, but I am not mad at the South.

There's only one thing I am mad at—people who are mad at somebody.

This neutralizes me as an element in politics. No one needs to be afraid of me. I am as harmless as a white rabbit. The only offense I could commit would be trespassing, if you can call nonmalicious hippity-hopping "trespassing."

That is why I feel lonely in the wake of the great 1960 separation of voters. When it was all over, everybody had been corraled and branded. They were this, that, or the other. They had been analyzed, certified, weighted, projected and detected. Everything about them had been reduced to a statistic carried out to three decimal places. They were a percentage of something.

Me, I wasn't a percentage of anything. My motives were unknown even to myself. I was an individual American trying to get along—not a member of a gang, a crusade, a junta, a cabal, or a marching club.

Man, am I lonely! I haven't a political friend anywhere.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — It was announced that Chester's bill for street lights would be $514 less than in recent years following the lowering of rates by the Monongahela West Penn Co.

Plans were made for a post-season football game for charity between the East Liverpool and Midland high school teams sometime in December.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Midland Council discussed regid enforcement of the ordinance prohibiting the operation of pinball machines by minors.

Strings of colored lights were hung on the 35-foot Christmas tree erected on the Diamond by the Retail Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce.

TEN YEARS AGO — The Crucible Steel Co. decided to support the Savings Bond drive 100 per cent through the payroll deduction method.

Political Fallacies

By David Lawrence

1960 Election Upset Some Popular Beliefs

Many widespread beliefs about how American political parties really line up from year to year have been knocked into a cocked hat by last week's presidential and congressional elections.

David Lawrence

Fallacies and misconceptions have been repeated so often in recent years about the relative position of the Democratic and Republican parties that the public has come to accept them as obvious truths.

Widespread belief No. 1: "There are far more Democrats in the country than Republicans and hence a Democratic victory is these days assured."

What the recent election reveals is something that really has been true right along — Namely, that aside from the South, where there is virtually little organized Republican opposition, the actual division between the two major parties in the country is close. Indeed, if the totals in the southern states are subtracted, it will be found that Republicans actually polled a majority of the votes in the East, North and West.

LAST WEEK it turned out that, while the Democratic presidential nominee won, the Democratic party lost at least 22 seats in the House and 2 seats in the Senate.

Widespread belief No. 3: "The personality of a candidate is the decisive factor — and presumably Ike's popularity and not any major issues, won him two campaign victories."

The truth is that Sen. Kennedy, who was widely acclaimed by many observers as the better-looking candidate and as having a far more attractive personality than that of Vice President Nixon, had difficulty winning the election.

About one-half of one per cent of the total of more than 68 million votes cast gave him the margin of victory.

Yet for the last several years the chief opposition to Vice President Nixon has been that he had a personality which would not be attractive to the voters. "We just don't like Nixon," was the slogan of many left wingers, including those who resented his activity in exposing Communist sympathizers in this country.

Widespread belief No. 4: "The Republican party is always weaker than the man at the top of the ticket — Ike was able to win twice, but he could carry Congress only once."

ALL THE ELECTIONS in recent years have shown that, on both the Republican and Democratic side, the total vote for congressional tickets fell behind the presidential vote.

This has nothing to do with the strength of parties, and has everything to do with the fact that there is a complicated system of balloting in America which causes many people not to vote for candidates for Congress when they come to the voting machine or tackle the long and complex ballots that have to be marked.

Again, without the South where there are virtually no Republicans on the ballot, the Democrats would not control Congress today.

Widespread belief No. 5: "The debates on TV hurt Nixon, and without them he might have won."

The weakness in this contention is that Sen. Kennedy, who was considered to have made a decidedly better impression in the TV debates, ran about even with Vice President Nixon in the voting totals.

Personalities have never been the decisive factor in campaigns heretofore and evidently basic economic issues and emotional questions and the religious issue had more to do this time with the result than the facial appearance or voice or gestures on TV of either candidate.

Widespread belief No. 6: "The Republican party has not had enough liberals as candidates, and hence cannot appeal to the independents and liberals."

THE RESULTS of the congressional races show that in many districts conservatives beat the so-called liberal candidates for the Republican nomination and were returned victorious at the polls. There are exceptions, of course, but by and large the Republican party in last week's election took a more conservative position on domestic issues than did the Democrats and yet Republican congressional seats were increased.

Widespread belief No. 7: "Vice President Nixon would never get anywhere near the vote that President Eisenhower did."

Yet the results show that Ike's 35½ million in 1956, when he got a higher total than in 1952, is now being approximated as the final returns come in, and in the end it will be found that Mr. Nixon got 7 million more than Mr. Stevenson's total in 1956 and within 2 million of Ike's vote four years ago. As a loser, Mr. Nixon has a larger total vote and a larger percentage of all the votes than any other unsuccessful nominee for the presidency on either ticket in this century.

Our Strangest Election

By Raymond Moley

The serious charges of errors and frauds in some of the states in this election merely bring to a head a peril that has threatened our electoral system for many years.

A number of these charges, if sustantiated, would change the result and elect Nixon.

There is little chance that an entirely revised and clear count of all of the millions of votes in those states can ever be made. It takes a lot of money to get recounts and with the difficulty of such rechecking of incomplete and faulty records, that may leave the whole matter in a state of confusion.

This will raise in the minds of many people doubts and sinister shadows which should never be present to haunt a responsible president or vice president.

IT IS REPORTED that, while the Republican National Committee is taking steps to clear up things, Vice President Nixon has not participated.

It is not Nixon but Sen. Kennedy who should be concerned and, while he cannot well get into a squabble with his party leaders in the states which gave him majorities, his efforts should be to make certain that this sort of thing cannot happen again.

Indeed, it should be the first business of Congress to consider new legislation to prevent anything like this from happening again.

It was the insistence on Kennedy again and again that our prestige abroad was vital to our international position and our national security.

He also said that many new nations emerging into the light of self-government should be looking to us rather than to communism and dictatorships for inspiration.

It can be validly disputed whether their knowledge and judgment of relative economic and military power is of any value to us but if we are revealed to the world as unable, after nearly two centuries, to conduct an accurate and honest election, their confidence in the United States will really be shaken. They are in most cases just beginning to govern themselves.

Many of the older members of the United Nations, especially in Latin America, have considerable difficulty in determining who is rightfully in authority after a century and some decades of trying.

IN ANYTHING but a close election, the shenanigans that go on in some of our cities and states are overlooked. But in 1960 it proves to be a quite different matter.

Members of both parties have been strident in condemning restrictions and in attempting to assure the Negroes in the South a valid vote.

Federal authority is invoked in many laws to provide some sort of federal inspection and authority in that instance. Also, these alleged injustices to American citizens have been spread among Communist countries as a blot upon us.

To cite an example of a crying injustice which has nothing to do with fraud, no less than eight million citizens were barred from voting for president this year because of absurd residence requirements fixed by 47 states.

There should be federal legislation granting at least a presidential vote to all residents where they are after no more than 30 days.

Let the states fix what they will as residence requirements for state and local offices, even for the House and Senate.

To assure honesty and accuracy, there should be some effective federal inspection of all elections for federal offices in every state and this inspection should be backed up by stiff checks and penalties for violations.

Let us overhaul our electoral system so that the world can see that we are really capable of practicing what we preach and so that Americans can get what they vote for.

Letter To Editor

Tonight at the monthly meeting of Local 1212, United Steelworkers, there will be a nomination for District 20 director. I urge all members to come to the meeting. This is the only way to have your voice heard in the nomination.

The impression is that we will vote on the district representative. We do not! The representative is appointed by the district director, whom we will vote on the second Tuesday of February.

In the past two years I have visited the District 20 office seven times. I have been into the international president's office five times and I have never talked to anybody outside of the secretary. She informed me to communicate by mail, which I did. I have had no satisfaction. I have written three letters. I find that there seems to be a chain from the international office to the local office that cannot be broken by a local member. So I urge all members to attend tonight's meeting.

ROBERT C. POWELL

Student Riots In New Orleans

What is happening in New Orleans as the result of token integration is no cause for outsiders to strike an attitude of pursed-lip disapproval.

What is happening in New Orleans could happen anywhere in the United States if the same circumstances existed—and not only a school policy dispute.

The chief circumstance in New Orleans is the uncontrollability of teen-agers who have formed mobs to defy the New Orleans police, to thwart the orderly processes of law and, worst of all, to put into action the hatreds of their elders.

No one needs to be told that these teen-age mobs are not fairly representative of New Orleans. Neither are the jeering, abusive adults who are egging on the mobs by their own undisciplined behavior.

The point, aside from the never-ending argument over segregation, is what makes it possible for mobs of teen-agers to form and to roam the streets in one of the country's great cities. The point is what makes it possible for this sort of thing to happen in any American city.

There have been student riots in New York City. Teachers and policemen have been injured. There have been student riots in other cities. Here is a new and ugly phenomenon appearing in the United States — children struggling with policemen, sometimes with the consent and active cooperation of their own parents.

No more fearful thing could be imagined in a free country than this kind of undisciplined juvenile behavior. Here is the whirlwind harvest of decades of degeneration in the discipline of the young that is the cornerstone of freedom.

There isn't a teen-ager in New Orleans or in any other city who has any right to raise his hand or his voice in protest against an official decision.

IN THE TENSE SITUATION that has developed in New Orleans over token integration in the schools, there isn't a teen-ager who should be permitted to roam the streets. These children should be in school or at home. If they have no parents, they should be controlled by public authority.

Nothing is going to be proved about token integration in New Orleans one way or the other. That's a tired, threadbare issue that is beginning to bore even the stoutest states' righters.

The thing to be proved in New Orleans is whether or not prejudice, hatred, insubordination and malice have so poisoned the minds of the city's teen-agers that they cannot be handled—or manhandled if necessary.

Every city is wondering about that.

Student riots, once a symptom of social sickness in disorderly countries, have appeared in the United States. They are a grim omen.

Is Do-It-Yourselfism Dead?

Among all the other rare or unprecedented aspects of John F. Kennedy's election to the presidency is the fact that his previous governmental experience was entirely in the United States Congress.

Only Warren G. Harding before him had been elevated directly from the Senate to the White House, and before the national conventions last July the pundits still were saying that the legislative platform was not the most promising springboard for the would-be chief executive.

But 1960 seems to have put a different light on this.

Richard Scammon, an expert in election analysis for the Governmental Research Institute of Washington, said the other day that the most surprising thing to him about last week's returns was that a governorship appears to have become more a jumping-off place for political oblivion than the traditional launching pad for a try at the White House or some other high office.

MR. SCAMMON pointed out that of 27 gubernatorial offices at stake, 13 changed political hands. At the heart of a good many of those switches appeared to be a paradoxical situation.

If a governor responds to public demand for increased or improved state services by putting through tax increases to pay for them, he finds himself in hot water with the voters the next time he puts his career on the block.

Assuming this is the case, it would lead future governors to one of two alternatives: Ignore public demand for more and better services, pretending there are no problems, or respond to the demand by going to the federal government for the money.

Since the growth problems of a healthy, expanding state can be hidden or sat on only so long, the latter course is far more likely.

And this in turn would give the politicos in Washington the impression of an ever-increasing mandate from the hinterlands for more federal aid for education, more federal aid for highways, more federal aid for mental and physical health, more federal aid for welfare.

BUT NO MONEY comes from the federal coffers without strings attached, and the strings serve to bind tighter and tighter the hands of state and local governments in guiding their own affairs.

It is a truism that voters frequently squash the taxing proposals closest to home because their opportunity to step on the federal hand reaching for their money seems so remote.

But it is also a truism that the federal hand is going to keep reaching deeper into the taxpayers' pockets unless the taxpayers respond more willingly than they sometimes have to state and local efforts to raise the money needed at home without relying on the pseudo-generosity of the federal government.

Has Fidel Read George Orwell?

If you've wondered about Cuba lately, the people down there are being told by Fidel Castro that his government has saved them from invasion by the United States.

All ball games and other events were called off the other night so the head man could tell his followers on radio and television that they could thank him and his associates for saving them from the awful Americans. Standing by him while he thumped his chest as the savior of Cuba was a delegation from Communist China.

This incident is reported to be puzzling the Cubans. They cannot understand why they were stirred up to a screaming pitch by the threat of an invasion that apparently was turned aside with so little effort. But, naturally, they're for safety and security. The big bad wolf must be held at bay. Every Cuban must be willing to defend Cuba against the threat of American invasion.

It sounds almost as if the Cubans were having that presidential election which Castro never has been in a mood to give them.

Castro is, after all, a man who knows his way around — a well-read man qualified to practice law if he ever tires of practicing politics. And it could be that one of the books he has read is George Orwell's "1984."

That's the one in which Orwell invented Big Brother, the "thing" that is always watching everybody through television monitors mounted in every nook and cranny.

Big Brother was a figment made up to fool the people — the ultimate political image. The threats of invasion that Orwell's imaginary superstate of 1984 kept talking about to spur the proletariat — the "proles" — into ever-greater effort were figments too.

There was always a war going on somewhere that required sacrifice, always an enemy to be hated, always a rally cry to hold the "proles" together like herded sheep. No one knew who the enemy was, where the war was being fought, or who was threatening to invade the country — but the main thing in "1984" was to fool all the people all the time.

Yes, Fidel Castro undoubtedly has read Orwell's "1984."

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

With Jack Kennedy in Palm Beach or Texas, Dick Nixon down around Florida Keys, Marilyn Miller in Reno or nearly so, and Arthur Miller in bachelor quarters, the American picture is pretty well cleared up.

Whether Marilyn lost to Arthur or Arthur lost to Marilyn will not be known for some time as returns from many precincts are still missing. Brush-fire war between the famous couple had long been reported. The fact it was revealed so soon after the election helped the Republican claim that Democrats couldn't do any more for a durable peace than anybody else.

The marriage had lasted four years, which is pretty good distance for two people under the handicap of fame, talent, riches, luxury living and top publicity.

The groom hadn't written a Broadway play since 1955. It must have been hard to give the typewriter and dramatic ideas full attention when a chick like Marilyn was around the house.

GEORGE ALLEN resigned as U. S. Information Bureau head to take a job as president of Tobacco Institute. He is quitting "Hellzapoppin" for "Tobacco Road."

Yale-Princeton game this year restored the glamor excitement and prestige of the old days in Yale Bowl for many people but TV, supposedly a great judge of wonderful shows, paid no attention. It was a de luxe autumn day with historic game providing everything in color sport, fun and drama.

All kinds of reasons were given for stock market behavior. This week we heard a fellow blame it on the Miller - Marilyn Monroe crisis.

Unemployment figures have jumped, and why not with so many Republicans thrown out of work? Now that Bob McNamara has been made president of Ford Motors would you call his associates "McNamara's Band"?

America's amusement madness is now so recognized that one big New York department store takes half of its full page ad now with news of Broadway shows . . . The other day a dramatic review, with photos, topped all mention of dry goods.

Most folks hate to see Henry Cabot Lodge out of work. He gave up a big salary as U.S. chief in the United Nations and was doing such a good job that only Khrushchev can enjoy his unemployment.

Three chimpanzees were put to work in a Texas furniture factory stuffing foam-rubber pillows and doing other easily taught tasks. They may strike for a two-coconut day and a satisfactory peanut quota.

Well, There's Always A Chance

Kennedy Plans Action On Crime

By Victor Riesel

The exact words from the policy-making sanctum of John F. Kennedy on smashing the mob, its multi-million dollar mulcting of labor and industry are — "This will get the highest, repeat, the highest, priority after the inauguration."

Victor Riesel

The President-elect will direct the fight on the underworld just as the government, in the past, has fought the undercover world — the internal Communists. But the Brothers Kennedy do not believe that there now is available inside the federal government an agency equipped to make that fight.

Thus, within a few weeks after Jan. 20, John F. Kennedy can be expected to ask the Senate to "make a thorough study of the matter with the view to determining the most feasible and effective way of meeting the problem" of fighting syndicated crime.

Both Robert and John Kennedy believe that despite many honest local police departments, the only effective war on the mob can be fought by a "National Crime Commission."

THERE ARE THOSE who make the point on this anniversary week of the Apalachin crime convention that despite arrests, the national underworld conclaves have been held with disdainful regularity.

The most recent nose-thumbing criminal gathering was called to order in eastern Canada, just north of the border, last month. The great Apalachin crime cookout, which never did get to the steaks, was broken up by New York State Police on Nov. 14, 1957.

John Kennedy will ask the Senate to advise him on whether there should be a new federal agency or the extension of one of the older operations. His preference is a new commission.

The President-elect is aware that FBI director J. Edgar Hoover is opposed to such a national crime information center. On this, there have been and there will continue to be conferences between Robert Kennedy and Hoover.

This would also mean finding a chief of operations for the new central agency on criminal information — and there is no doubt that high on Kennedy's list is Harry F. Anslinger, director of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics.

THAT'S LOGICAL. Much of the mob's activity has been tied to the heavy opium money. So a knowledge of the dope trade means a deep knowledge of the intricacies of the underworld.

John F. Kennedy said recently that a new National Crime Commission would "gather information on the top criminal leaders of the country, keep a close surveillance on their activities, and disseminate their information to local and state law enforcement agencies. It would not have law enforcement powers but merely act as a factor or intelligence gathering agency."

ON ANOTHER FRONT, there has been fascinated interest in the President-elect's reaction to the often brutal attacks on the Kennedys by Jim Hoffa. There will be no Hatfield-McCoy feud. John Kennedy will simply not dignify the fellow with a vendetta.

There simply will be orders to the new attorney general to give the vast McClellan committee testimony a real vacuuming.

There will be a review of every one of the scores of cases sent to the Justice Department over the past three years by the committee's former counsel Kennedy and its chairman.

Every case, including those which went into court, will be gone over for additional evidence. Many of these reviews will include testimony involving Hoffa.

Not to be overlooked is the special Grand Jury which has been sitting in Orlando, Fla. probing into the Sun Valley real estate operation in which Hoffa had such an interest.

It will be a very busy season for all the boys, not just Jim Hoffa.

Minority Of One

By Truman Twill

Never have I felt so lonely as I feel after the great 1960 national election.

It has dawned on me with the same impact as the realization that Nellie Rockefeller can't deliver New York that at last I have become what I have been a long time in the process of becoming.

I am a minority of one.

No one will lick my toes to get my vote. It isn't worth it.

No pollster bird-dogs me to see what I am thinking because my thinking is of no consequence.

I am not a member of a special interest group.

It never occurs to anyone to think of me as part of a pressure bloc.

There is no speculation about what I am going to do for the good reason that it is of no importance.

I speak only for myself. I influence no one.

No ethnic, religious, or economic factors influence me or vice versa.

I am not typical of anything. They can't even get rid of me by writing me off as an independent and thereafter treating me as if I were a fallen leaf, blown hither and yon by the gusty oratory of the political windbags.

I am not independent. Neither am I a captive.

When I get peeved, I can take out my anger on every candidate of one party, then turn around and do the same thing to the other party if it makes me sore.

My religion is my own business, just the way it says in the Constitution, and I believe it must be the same with everybody else, even the "martyrs." But this, too, takes the zing out of me, because I cannot be appealed to or against in the area of religious belief.

Matter of fact, I cannot be appealed to in any area of belief. I even refuse to associate myself with the wool industry, although I raise sheep. I own and operate my own dump, and here again I stand alone. I do not go along with the dumpmen of America when they lobby for more dumping.

I work for a living, but that doesn't make me mad at the people who hire me. I live in the North, but I am not mad at the South.

There's only one thing I am mad at—people who are mad at somebody.

This neutralizes me as an element in politics. No one needs to be afraid of me. I am as harmless as a white rabbit. The only offense I could commit would be trespassing, if you can call nonmalicious hippity-hopping "trespassing."

That is why I feel lonely in the wake of the great 1960 separation of voters. When it was all over, everybody had been corraled and branded. They were this, that, or the other. They had been analyzed, certified, weighted, projected and detected. Everything about them had been reduced to a statistic carried out to three decimal places. They were a percentage of something.

Me, I wasn't a percentage of anything. My motives were unknown even to myself. I was an individual American trying to get along—not a member of a gang, a crusade, a junta, a cabal, or a marching club.

Man, am I lonely! I haven't a political friend anywhere.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — It was announced that Chester's bill for street lights would be $514 less than in recent years following the lowering of rates by the Monongahela West Penn Co.

Plans were made for a post-season football game for charity between the East Liverpool and Midland high school teams sometime in December.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Midland Council discussed regid enforcement of the ordinance prohibiting the operation of pinball machines by minors.

TEN YEARS AGO — The Crucible Steel Co. decided to support the Savings Bond drive 100 per cent through the payroll deduction method.

Letter To Editor

Tonight at the monthly meeting of Local 1212, United Steelworkers, there will be a nomination for District 20 director. I urge all members to come to the meeting. This is the only way to have your voice heard in the nomination.

The impression is that we will vote on the district representative. We do not! The representative is appointed by the district director, whom we will vote on the second Tuesday of February.

In the past two years I have visited the District 20 office seven times. I have been into the international president's office five times and I have never talked to anybody outside of the secretary. She informed me to communicate by mail, which I did. I have had no satisfaction. I have written three letters. I find that there seems to be a chain from the international office to the local office that cannot be broken by a local member. So I urge all members to attend tonight's meeting.

Political Fallacies

By David Lawrence

1960 Election Upset Some Popular Beliefs

Many widespread beliefs about how American political parties really line up from year to year have been knocked into a cocked hat by last week's presidential and congressional elections.

David Lawrence

Fallacies and misconceptions have been repeated so often in recent years about the relative position of the Democratic and Republican parties that the public has come to accept them as obvious truths.

Widespread belief No. 1: "There are far more Democrats in the country than Republicans and hence a Democratic victory is these days assured."

What the recent election reveals is something that really has been true right along — Namely, that aside from the South, where there is virtually little organized Republican opposition, the actual division between the two major parties in the country is close. Indeed, if the totals in the southern states are subtracted, it will be found that Republicans actually polled a majority of the votes in the East, North and West.

Widespread belief No. 2: "A strong presidential candidate usually carries in the congressional ticket of his side and gives his party an increased representation in Congress over the off-year elections."

LAST WEEK it turned out that, while the Democratic presidential nominee won, the Democratic party lost at least 22 seats in the House and 2 seats in the Senate.

Widespread belief No. 3: "The personality of a candidate is the decisive factor — and presumably Ike's popularity and not any major issues, won him two campaign victories."

The truth is that Sen. Kennedy, who was widely acclaimed by many observers as the better-looking candidate and as having a far more attractive personality than that of Vice President Nixon, had difficulty winning the election.

About one-half of one per cent of the total of more than 68 million votes cast gave him the margin of victory.

Yet for the last several years the chief opposition to Vice President Nixon has been that he had a personality which would not be attractive to the voters. "We just don't like Nixon," was the slogan of many left wingers, including those who resented his activity in exposing Communist sympathizers in this country.

Widespread belief No. 4: "The Republican party is always weaker than the man at the top of the ticket — Ike was able to win twice, but he could carry Congress only once."

ALL THE ELECTIONS in recent years have shown that, on both the Republican and Democratic side, the total vote for congressional tickets fell behind the presidential vote.

This has nothing to do with the strength of parties, and has everything to do with the fact that there is a complicated system of balloting in America which causes many people not to vote for candidates for Congress when they come to the voting machine or tackle the long and complex ballots that have to be marked.

Again, without the South where there are virtually no Republicans on the ballot, the Democrats would not control Congress today.

Widespread belief No. 5: "The debates on TV hurt Nixon, and without them he might have won."

The weakness in this contention is that Sen. Kennedy, who was considered to have made a decidedly better impression in the TV debates, ran about even with Vice President Nixon in the voting totals.

Personalities have never been the decisive factor in campaigns heretofore and evidently basic economic issues and emotional questions and the religious issue had more to do this time with the result than the facial appearance or voice or gestures on TV of either candidate.

Widespread belief No. 6: "The Republican party has not had enough liberals as candidates, and hence cannot appeal to the independents and liberals."

THE RESULTS of the congressional races show that in many districts conservatives beat the so-called liberal candidates for the Republican nomination and were returned victorious at the polls. There are exceptions, of course, but by and large the Republican party in last week's election took a more conservative position on domestic issues than did the Democrats and yet Republican congressional seats were increased.

Widespread belief No. 7: "Vice President Nixon would never get anywhere near the vote that President Eisenhower did."

Yet the results show that Ike's 35½ million in 1956, when he got a higher total than in 1952, is now being approximated as the final returns come in, and in the end it will be found that Mr. Nixon got 7 million more than Mr. Stevenson's total in 1956 and within 2 million of Ike's vote four years ago. As a loser, Mr. Nixon has a larger total vote and a larger percentage of all the votes than any other unsuccessful nominee for the presidency on either ticket in this century.

Our Strangest Election

By Raymond Moley

The serious charges of errors and frauds in some of the states in this election merely bring to a head a peril that has threatened our electoral system for many years.

A number of these charges, if sustantiated, would change the result and elect Nixon.

There is little chance that an entirely revised and clear count of all of the millions of votes in those states can ever be made. It takes a lot of money to get recounts and with the difficulty of such rechecking of incomplete and faulty records, that may leave the whole matter in a state of confusion.

This will raise in the minds of many people doubts and sinister shadows which should never be present to haunt a responsible president or vice president.

IT IS REPORTED that, while the Republican National Committee is taking steps to clear up things, Vice President Nixon has not participated.

It is not Nixon but Sen. Kennedy who should be concerned and, while he cannot well get into a squabble with his party leaders in the states which gave him majorities, his efforts should be to make certain that this sort of thing cannot happen again.

Indeed, it should be the first business of Congress to consider new legislation to prevent anything like this from happening again.

It was the insistence on Kennedy again and again that our prestige abroad was vital to our international position and our national security.

He also said that many new nations emerging into the light of self-government should be looking to us rather than to communism and dictatorships for inspiration.

It can be validly disputed whether their knowledge and judgment of relative economic and military power is of any value to us but if we are revealed to the world as unable, after nearly two centuries, to conduct an accurate and honest election, their confidence in the United States will really be shaken. They are in most cases just beginning to govern themselves.

Many of the older members of the United Nations, especially in Latin America, have considerable difficulty in determining who is rightfully in authority after a century and some decades of trying.

IN ANYTHING but a close election, the shenanigans that go on in some of our cities and states are overlooked. But in 1960 it proves to be a quite different matter.

Members of both parties have been strident in condemning restrictions and in attempting to assure the Negroes in the South a valid vote.

Federal authority is invoked in many laws to provide some sort of federal inspection and authority in that instance. Also, these alleged injustices to American citizens have been spread among Communist countries as a blot upon us.

To cite an example of a crying injustice which has nothing to do with fraud, no less than eight million citizens were barred from voting for president this year because of absurd residence requirements fixed by 47 states.

There should be federal legislation granting at least a presidential vote to all residents where they are after no more than 30 days.

Let the states fix what they will as residence requirements for state and local offices, even for the House and Senate.

To assure honesty and accuracy, there should be some effective federal inspection of all elections for federal offices in every state and this inspection should be backed up by stiff checks and penalties for violations.

Let us overhaul our electoral system so that the world can see that we are really capable of practicing what we preach and so that Americans can get what they vote for.

Gable

off until the baby is born in March. I want to be there when it happens — and I want to be there a good many months afterward.

"This is my 90th picture—and it's been a tough one. I'm not doing any more for a long while. I want to enjoy my son."

All through the conversation, he referred to the baby only as he—and it was hard to conceive any Gable first-born as being anything else but a husky boy.

For Gable was all man — admired and envied by men and adored by women. He once said he had received 5,000 marriage proposals from women fans.

And that was years ago. His popularity never diminished despite a series of bad pictures after World War II—pictures that would have killed off any other star in the business.

Gable was born Feb. 1, 1901, in Cadiz, Ohio, the son of an oil worker. He knocked about as a farm boy, oil field worker and rubber plant employe. Then he took a job as a backstage call boy in a touring stock company. From then on, he was an actor, touring the country with stock companies. Lionel Barrymore spotted him once in a Los Angeles play and got him a series of bit parts in the movies.

Later he played Killer Mears in the Los Angeles company of "The Last Mile."

The depression ended the era of the patent-haired lovers of the screen and spawned the Gable era. His old friend, Lionel Barrymore, suggested to Louis B. Mayer that Gable would be ideal for the gangster role in "A Free Soul," starring Barrymore and Norma Shearer.

In the movie Gable slapped Miss Shearer, one of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's top feminine stars.

"The reaction was astounding," said one MGM executive, "instead of the letters of protest we expected, women by the thousands wrote in that they would like to be slapped around by Gable."

Thus started the king's reign in Hollywood. Joan Crawford said recently that "no one, not even Brando, has ever approached Gable. He's the king—and he always will be."

When Margaret Mitchell wrote "Gone With The Wind," she had Clark Gable in mind when she created the character of Rhett Butler. Everybody knew it but Gable.

"I never could see myself in that part," he once said. His portrayal in the movie of the famed best seller was a screen classic but it was not his favorite.

His all-time favorite was the one that won him an Oscar in 1934—the wise-cracking newspaperman of "It Happened One Night."

"I was having a beef with Metro in those days," he once said. "I was sick—even went to a hospital — but they threatened me with suspension. To get even, they exiled me via a loanout to Columbia.

"Columbia in those days was not the major studio it is now. It was a little independent on poverty row—Siberia for me, so my bosses at MGM thought.

"But I knew they had guessed wrong as soon as I read the script and talked to Frank Capra, the director. The picture was the big turning point in my career. MGM had me in a rut playing mostly heavies or brutes.

" 'It Happened One Night' gave me a chance to play comedy and from then on, I was never type cast."

Gable, a better actor than most screen heroes, never took himself seriously. A few years ago, I asked him if he intended to take up directing as had some of his fellow stars.

"Direct? Hell! I haven't even learned how to act yet."

In a way, that quote summed up Gable—a big star who never got the big head—even though he had the ears for it.

Unlike many big stars, Gable was as beloved by fellow workers as by fans. When news of his first heart attack broke, a flock of MGM people from gatemen to publicity men flocked to the hospital to help — although Gable hadn't worked at MGM for 10 years.

He said a new pump would have to be made to specifications at Denver, and could not be provided immediately should a breakdown occur.

Hatcher's contract included $8,050 for concrete work, $1,050 for reinforcing steel, $4,725 for steel sheet piling, $450 for structural steel, $300 for gravel backfill, $300 for removal of the existing well dome, $300 for raising and repairing the pump column and seal assembly, $50 for painting the steel and $100 for flood proofing the manhole frames and cover.

In other action, Council authorized the sale of easement to 2 small parcels of city-owned property along the river to the government for $50 each.

The river bank areas — one near 1st St. and the other near the T-K Roofing Co.—will be affected with the river's rise and total only 0.05 acre.

Council also approved first reading of an amendment to the licensing ordinance establishing a $5 annual fee on serving vending machines—such as commercial automatic laundry washers—or any automatic slot machine not a gambling or amusement device.

Councilman W. F. Bishop asked if any arrangements had been made to confer with West Virginia Health Department officials concerning a notice that Chester was delinquent in meeting requirements for construction of a sewage disposal plant.

Mayor Ray Collins said nothing has been done yet. He said he plans to call a meeting of the Sanitary Board "soon" to discuss plans for action on the proposed project.

Bishop, chairman of the water committee, reported a new fence obtained for the city reservoir will be erected "in the near future." He also filed a financial report on the water works.

Bishop said rumors of his planning to resign from Council due to an illness of his wife were true at one time, but he has reconsidered following improvement of his wife's health.

Gable

off until the baby is born in March. I want to be there when it happens — and I want to be there a good many months afterward.

"This is my 90th picture—and it's been a tough one. I'm not doing any more for a long while. I want to enjoy my son."

All through the conversation, he referred to the baby only as he—and it was hard to conceive any Gable first-born as being anything else but a husky boy.

For Gable was all man — admired and envied by men and adored by women. He once said he had received 5,000 marriage proposals from women fans.

And that was years ago. His popularity never diminished despite a series of bad pictures after World War II—pictures that would have killed off any other star in the business.

Gable was born Feb. 1, 1901, in Cadiz, Ohio, the son of an oil worker. He knocked about as a farm boy, oil field worker and rubber plant employe. Then he took a job as a backstage call boy in a touring stock company. From then on, he was an actor, touring the country with stock companies. Lionel Barrymore spotted him once in a Los Angeles play and got him a series of bit parts in the movies.

Later he played Killer Mears in the Los Angeles company of "The Last Mile."

The depression ended the era of the patent-haired lovers of the screen and spawned the Gable era. His old friend, Lionel Barrymore, suggested to Louis B. Mayer that Gable would be ideal for the gangster role in "A Free Soul," starring Barrymore and Norma Shearer.

In the movie Gable slapped Miss Shearer, one of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's top feminine stars.

"The reaction was astounding," said one MGM executive, "instead of the letters of protest we expected, women by the thousands wrote in that they would like to be slapped around by Gable."

Thus started the king's reign in Hollywood. Joan Crawford said recently that "no one, not even Brando, has ever approached Gable. He's the king—and he always will be."

When Margaret Mitchell wrote "Gone With The Wind," she had Clark Gable in mind when she created the character of Rhett Butler. Everybody knew it but Gable.

"I never could see myself in that part," he once said. His portrayal in the movie of the famed best seller was a screen classic but it was not his favorite.

His all-time favorite was the one that won him an Oscar in 1934—the wise-cracking newspaperman of "It Happened One Night."

"I was having a beef with Metro in those days," he once said. "I was sick—even went to a hospital — but they threatened me with suspension. To get even, they exiled me via a loanout to Columbia.

"Columbia in those days was not the major studio it is now. It was a little independent on poverty row—Siberia for me, so my bosses at MGM thought.

"But I knew they had guessed wrong as soon as I read the script and talked to Frank Capra, the director. The picture was the big turning point in my career. MGM had me in a rut playing mostly heavies or brutes.

Governor-Elect In Court

Barron Reiterates Denial Of Money Offer To Skeen

CHARLESTON (AP) — Gov. elect W. W. Barron has reiterated in court his previous denials that he offered State Treasurer Orel J. Skeen money to stay out of the Democratic gubernatorial primary race.

The governor-elect made the denial in Kanawha County Circuit Court yesterday in answer to a motion by his defeated Republican opponent, Harold Neely. Neely, defendant in a $400,000 slander suit filed by Barron, asked for dismissal of the suit and for Barron to answer under oath a group of questions relating to the Skeen allegations.

Skeen earlier had alleged that Barron offered him $65,000 to stay out of the governor's race and he said he had a tape recording of the conversation.

Barron gave this version of the conversation with Skeen in Skeen's home last November:

"If we pitch in together, we will share the expenses of the race at a cost of about $65,000 which was an amount just picked out of the air, and the expense would be borne jointly between us and will not extend beyond the two of us."

Barron said "that there was no statement direct or by implication that any amount would be paid Orel J. Skeen for dropping out of the race for governor."

Barron earlier had filed a $300,000 slander suit against Skeen but the proceeding was settled out of court.

Barron told the court that he had visited Skeen's home last November and discussed the prospects for obtaining the nomination and the support that could be expected.

5 Boys Sentenced In Steubenville Bomb Hoaxes

STEUBENVILLE, (AP) — Five teen-age boys have been sentenced to the Boys Industrial School, and 15 other youngsters are in juvenile detention home in connection with a rash of bomb hoaxes that have emptied schools here repeatedly since Nov. 2.

Police said the five boys, age 14 to 16, admitted involvement in two calls warning of bombs at two high schools here. Probate Judge Emmett M. Morrow sentenced the five Wednesday to indeterminate terms at BIS near Lancaster.

The judge said 13 of the other 15 being held will have hearings in the next few days. The 15, including two girls, are 12 and 13 years old.

The Board of Education voted to expel any pupil involved in the bomb hoaxes.

Three bomb warnings telephoned Wednesday brought to 18 the number of such hoaxes since Nov. 2. The College of Steubenville and four public schools have been targets of the hoaxes.

Cost to the city of fire department runs and investigation of the false bomb warnings was set by Steubenville officials at $45,400.

The five tallest buildings in the world are all in New York City. They are the Empire State, the Chrysler Tower, 60 Wall Tower, 40 Wall Street and the RCA Building.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Our son, 23, quit school at 17 despite my protests. We bought him a car shortly after. He had three accidents and several speeding tickets almost immediately. He also wrecked the car. My wife bought him a new one out of our savings without telling me.

Three years ago he said his girl was pregnant. We had never met her but we paid for their wedding, furnished their apartment and paid the doctor bills.

After the baby came his wife started divorce proceedings. We paid for the lawyers. She found she was pregnant again so they made up. After the second baby came she sued for divorce again and went through with it.

I refuse to have this girl in our home but my wife arranges secret meetings behind my back. She says it's our son's house, too, and he can invite anyone over he wants.

Dear D. D.: This 23-year-old vegetable is the product of parents who could never agree on what to do with their son — so he did as he darned well pleased.

You're trying to place all the blame on his mother but part is yours. You should never have permitted the boy to keep a car that was bought behind your back. It should have been returned or sold at once.

At this point there's little you can do except let the boy alone. Insist he pay his own bills and stand on his own two feet. The only help you should give him is to pay his psychiatrist — if he'll go.

Reader's Right

Dear Ann: I have worshipped at the shrine of your profound wisdom for many a year—always in agreement with your flawless human philosophy. But you disappointed me with your advice to "Top Banana".

She was the woman whose athletic prowess excelled that of her fiance. Your final sentence was, "How important is it to win the game if you lose the guy?"

Dear Long Suffering: Touche!

Meanest Husband

Dear Ann: I have lost the hearing in one ear completely. I hear very well with my one good ear, if a person speaks clearly and not too fast.

My doctor tells me that a hearing aid will not help my deaf ear and my good ear doesn't need it. So, I do as well as I can without mechanical help.

My friends all know about my problem so they cooperate and I can hear and understand everything they say. But my husband talks fast on purpose, in a monotone, without hesitating between sentences. He changes subjects rapidly because he knows it makes me mad.

When I ask him to slow up or repeat he says, "You hear what you WANT to hear."

He is making my life miserable. What shall I do? — ONE GOOD EAR.

Dear One Good Ear: A man who would exploit a physical disability to irritate his wife is downright mean. Maybe he's getting even with you for something. A marriage counselor or a clergyman should mediate this cold war.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

First Time 'Within Memory'

Elected Official Indicted On Charge Of Nonfeasance

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP)—For the first time within memory of many an "oldest inhabitant," an elected public official stands indicted today on a charge of nonfeasance in office, in that he failed to enforce statutes aimed at gambling —perhaps the most lucrative "industry" of this Northern Kentucky-Greater Cincinnati community.

A special Campbell County grand jury summoned Oct. 24 by Special Judge Edward G. Hill of Harlan charged Sheriff Norbert Roll with failure and neglect to "suppress violators" of Kentucky anti-gaming laws, despite "knowledge or information" that it was going on.

Roll took office in 1958 after serving as master commissioner under Circuit Judge Ray L. Murphy, in whose court the indictment was returned, and service as deputy U.S. marshal for Eastern Kentucky.

Four other men, identified as employes of Newport nightspots, also were indicted on seven charges of gambling violations.

A long retired leading political figure who refused to be quoted by name told The Associated Press that not within his 50-year memory of public events had a sheriff "or any official of the county" been indicted under anti-gaming statutes. He added that "a long time ago, in the 1920s, a magistrate was indicted for marriage touting."

Meanwhile, the "betting" among long-time observers of the Newport scene was that a "lid" — well blackened from rather frequent applications of legal "heat" —would go on once more, probably beginning today, atop the dice, poker and blackjack tables and gaming devices.

"City Hall probably already has the world," commented one as he returned at midnight from a visit to one of Newport's best patronized "spots." With a friend, he lost $40 in visits to two casinos located within three blocks of City Hall.

"But I'll bet we can't go back Thursday night and do the same thing," he ventured—and found no "taker" in his companion.

Newport's police chief, George Gugle, came under fire of the U.S. Senate's Kefauver crime investigating committee in 1951 when he testified ignorance that gambling was rampant within the city.

Once, when committee counsel interrupted to observe that "any taxi driver could have taken you" to gaming houses, Gugle replied "I never ride taxicabs."

"The police chief of Newport," said the committee's final report, "was probably the only adult in the city who did not know that there were wide-open gambling houses in his community."

BATHIE STUART
Final Guest Of Kiwanians.

Last Travelogue To Have Theme Of South Pacific

The enchantment and the colorful life of the South Pacific will be pictured in the last of a series of four Kiwanis Club - sponsored travelogues Saturday night at 8 at the Westgate School auditorium.

Bathie Stuart will give an accompanying narration of the color film, "Polynesia — Garden of Eden," which depicts the romantic scenes, the customs and crafts of the natives of the tropical islands.

Polynesia, a Greek word meaning many islands, includes French Oceania, British and American Samoa, exotic Tonga — ruled by Queen Salote, the Cook Islands, and Fiji with a variety of races and mixture of native peoples.

Bathie Stuart, whose first name stems from a Gaelic word — beatha — meaning life, is a specialist in Polynesian history and folk lore, and will relate the film.

Tickets will be available at the door according to Rowland Kaufman, chairman, who said proceeds are slated for service projects.

First Time 'Within Memory'

Elected Official Indicted On Charge Of Nonfeasance

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP)—For the first time within memory of many an "oldest inhabitant," an elected public official stands indicted today on a charge of nonfeasance in office, in that he failed to enforce statutes aimed at gambling —perhaps the most lucrative "industry" of this Northern Kentucky-Greater Cincinnati community.

A special Campbell County grand jury summoned Oct. 24 by Special Judge Edward G. Hill of Harlan charged Sheriff Norbert Roll with failure and neglect to "suppress violators" of Kentucky anti-gaming laws, despite "knowledge or information" that it was going on.

Roll took office in 1958 after serving as master commissioner under Circuit Judge Ray L. Murphy, in whose court the indictment was returned, and service as deputy U.S. marshal for Eastern Kentucky.

Four other men, identified as employes of Newport nightspots, also were indicted on seven charges of gambling violations.

A long retired leading political figure who refused to be quoted by name told The Associated Press that not within his 50-year memory of public events had a sheriff "or any official of the county" been indicted under anti-gaming statutes. He added that "a long time ago, in the 1920s, a magistrate was indicted for marriage touting."

Meanwhile, the "betting" among long-time observers of the Newport scene was that a "lid" — well blackened from rather frequent applications of legal "heat" —would go on once more, probably beginning today, atop the dice, poker and blackjack tables and gaming devices.

"City Hall probably already has the world," commented one as he returned at midnight from a visit to one of Newport's best patronized "spots." With a friend, he lost $40 in visits to two casinos located within three blocks of City Hall.

"But I'll bet we can't go back Thursday night and do the same thing," he ventured—and found no "taker" in his companion.

Newport's police chief, George Gugle, came under fire of the U.S. Senate's Kefauver crime investigating committee in 1951 when he testified ignorance that gambling was rampant within the city.

Once, when committee counsel interrupted to observe that "any taxi driver could have taken you" to gaming houses, Gugle replied "I never ride taxicabs."

"The police chief of Newport," said the committee's final report, "was probably the only adult in the city who did not know that there were wide-open gambling houses in his community."

50 Attend Diocesan Board's Session At Church In Lisbon

Hancock Sets Farm–City Week Events

Participation in an observance of Farm-City Week in West Virginia Friday through Thanksgiving has been asked of rural and civic organizations in Hancock County.

Gov. Cecil H. Underwood set the observance dates in a recent proclamation.

The county committee includes H. B. Proudfoot, chairman, H. B. Crow of Weirton Steel Co. and Oliver Johnson, county agricultural agent.

"The committee hopes rural and civic organizations will make plans to observe this event," Johnson said. "The Farm-City Week program is designed not only to town and country people, but a reaching of a better understanding of our basic problems of our American way of life," he added.

Workman is in charge of food processing plant inspection for the Dade County Health Department. C. M. Fergeson, assistant secretary of agriculture, was one of the convention speakers. Johnson's wife also attended.

Man, 24, First To 'Escape' From Cuyahoga Jail

CLEVELAND (AP)—Gary Victor Oleshiewicz, 24, of Cleveland, has become the first man successfully to "escape" from the Cuyahoga County jail in 28 years.

He didn't actually escape, since he merely walked out by identifying himself as another prisoner scheduled for release. Oleschiewicz had been bound over from Cleveland Municipal Court and was awaiting grand jury action on an auto theft charge.

He passed himself off as Leonard Dean, 21, of Cincinnati. Dean was being questioned Wednesday night as to whether he had a hand in helping Oleshiewicz get out. Dean denied he had helped, Sheriff Joseph M. Sweeney said. Dean explained he had shown Oleshiewicz some identification papers and a driver's license.

Dean apparently slept when a deputy called his name to be released from the jail. Oleshiewicz answered instead and replied correctly to questions about identity. He was not missed until 11 a.m. Wednesday, one day after he had made good his escape.

Explorers Club Sees Nature Films

The Tri-State Explorers Club met Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stu Wilson of Riverside Ave., Wellsville, and 35 were present.

Wilson showed movies of nature study, of field trips of the club to the McKinley Home and to Guilford Lake area and of a Gypsy wedding which took place below Wellsville last summer.

Guests were Francis Cleveland of Urbana, Ill., of the Soil Conservation Service and H. H. Morse, the state soil scientist from Columbus.

Naval Recruiter Killed In Plunge Of Auto

KINSTON, N. C. (AP)—A naval recruiter was killed when his car plunged off a fog-shrouded highway and crashed into a house. Officers said the victim was PO 1.C. Harry Howard Jr., 20, a native of Chillicothe, Ohio, who was stationed here.

Leads Police To Dope

CINCINNATI (AP)—A narcotics case suspect booked as Homer (Big Hands) Wilson, 46, led police to an estimated $5,000 in growing marijuana Wednesday, some 24 hours after they had seized four pounds of the processed weed from him. Police said the two lots would have brought $15,000 on the black market. Wilson's voluntary disclosure of the weed, which he said he grew, delayed planned formal filing of charges against him.

Harrassed Motor Vehicles Unit In 'More Hot Water'

CHARLESTON (AP) — The harrassed State Motor Vehicles Department found itself in more hot water today as the indirect result of the theft of more than $350,000 from its vault last June 19.

The latest is a report from the Kanawha County grand jury. The report, released yesterday, criticized the department for what it termed "the inefficient and loose manner in which collected license fees have been handled."

The jury was asked by Pros. Charles M. Walker earlier to investigate the department after an audit showed that $27,397 was still unaccounted for in the theft.

However, most of the missing money turned up Motor Vehicles Commissioner J. Marshall Holcomb announced earlier this week. Holcomb said that $25,040 in cash and checks was found behind the safe in the vault. The cash came to $220.87 with the rest in 490 checks of various amounts. All were dated between March and December of 1959 — before Holcomb joined the department. He was named commissioner last March.

Holcomb said he believes the $2,357 still unaccounted for was spent by Earl Hayes Mathews of Marmet. Mathews pleaded guilty to the theft — the largest robbery in West Virginia history — and now is awaiting sentencing. Police recovered $351,840 in cash from Mathew's car shortly after the theft.

The grand jury report said the Board of Public Works should give the department enough money to hire properly trained personnel for the job of handling the big rush period around each July 1. The report also urged the establishment of a merit system for department employes. As for the handling of license receipts, the report said:

"We see no reason why these funds cannot be processed in the same manner as by all of our largers banks throughout the State of West Virginia. By so doing, in the event a robbery should occur, the missing sum can be readily determined within the period of 24 hours.

"We believe the department should utilize the aid of any bank or group of banks in helping to establish a better daily method of accounting for funds received."

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Edcation Writer

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — A drastic overhaul of public education, designed to raise the quality and eliminate the frills, was proposed today by a group of education experts.

Highlights of the prepared statements:

G. Bailey Price, executive secretary of the Conference Board of the Mathematical Sciences, told of a Yale experiment in which intuitive geometry is introduced in the fourth grade, vectors in the eleventh grade, and matrix algebra and probability and statistical inference in the twelfth grade.

Floyd Rinker of the College Entrance Examination Boards' Commission on English said the problem in his field is to bridge the gap between what is taught in high school and what is required in college.

George E. Smith of the Indiana State Department of Public Instruction called for a 10-year course in modern foreign languages, starting with all third grade pupils. Those who show aptitude and ability would continue the language through the twelfth grade.

Hancock Sets Farm–City Week Events

Participation in an observance of Farm-City Week in West Virginia Friday through Thanksgiving has been asked of rural and civic organizations in Hancock County.

Gov. Cecil H. Underwood set the observance dates in a recent proclamation.

The county committee includes H. B. Proudfoot, chairman, H. B. Crow of Weirton Steel Co. and Oliver Johnson, county agricultural agent.

"The committee hopes rural and civic organizations will make plans to observe this event," Johnson said. "The Farm-City Week program is designed not only to town and country people, but a reaching of a better understanding of our basic problems of our American way of life," he added.

While attending the recent national county agents convention in Miami Beach, Johnson visited with Harry Workman of Miami, former Hancock farm agent.

Workman is in charge of food processing plant inspection for the Dade County Health Department. C. M. Fergeson, assistant secretary of agriculture, was one of the convention speakers. Johnson's wife also attended.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Gary Victor Oleshiewicz, 24, of Cleveland, has become the first man successfully to "escape" from the Cuyahoga County jail in 28 years.

He didn't actually escape, since he merely walked out by identifying himself as another prisoner scheduled for release. Oleschiewicz had been bound over from Cleveland Municipal Court and was awaiting grand jury action on an auto theft charge.

He passed himself off as Leonard Dean, 21, of Cincinnati. Dean was being questioned Wednesday night as to whether he had a hand in helping Oleshiewicz get out. Dean denied he had helped, Sheriff Joseph M. Sweeney said. Dean explained he had shown Oleshiewicz some identification papers and a driver's license.

Dean apparently slept when a deputy called his name to be released from the jail. Oleshiewicz answered instead and replied correctly to questions about identity. He was not missed until 11 a.m. Wednesday, one day after he had made good his escape.

King And 'His Court' Here Friday

* * * * * * * * *

Aviator Halfback Rated One Of Top Runners In Buckeye Football

Out Alliance way, Charlie King, a sure-fire bet for the All-Ohio backfield, is considered the greatest halfback Alliance has ever produced.

This statement takes in a lot of ground considering that such backs as Tom Barnett and Harry Hume have performed for the Aviators.

Barnett went on to star at Purdue and is currently the starting halfback with the Pittsburgh Steelers in the NFL. Hume led the state in scoring and was one of Ohio's all-time pointmakers in the early 1940's.

East Liverpool fans will get a glimpse of "The King And His Court," when he leads the Alliance Aviators to town Friday night.

Alliance invades Patterson Field ranked as the third best team in the state, but is on the rebound after losing in an upset to Niles, 16-14, last week.

The only other defeat on the Alliance schedule was to Massillon, 14-10, earlier in the season.

King and quarterback Bob Wallace, who throws long and deep, have been the big offensive guns of the Aviators.

The shifty 175-pound halfback is the leading scorer in Stark County with 136 points, averaging 6.7 yards per carry. In the Aviators' 54-38 victory over Steubenville Big Red, King scored 6 touchdowns and picked up 345 yards himself.

Ed DeGraw, sports editor of the Alliance Review, says "even when the opposition sets its defense for King, he still makes yardage."

While the Potters will have their hands full with King on the ground, they also must protect against the fine throwing arm of Wallace.

He was hit on 50 per cent of his passes this season and has thrown for 10 touchdowns. Through the air he has amassed 1,008 yards. His favorite target is end Sam Longmire, a 175-pounder who has caught six touchdowns throws.

The top lineman for the Aviators is Dick Knaus, a 205-pounder who is being pushed for All-Ohio honors. The other tackle is Ray Tunelius (185).

Alliance started the season with three straight victories. Coach Mel Knowlton's squad tripped Elyria, 28-0, stopped Akron Central, 40-6, then tripped Cuyahoga Falls, 18-13.

Massillon had to come from behind to nip Alliance, 14-10, then another win streak started with victories over Akron St. Vincent, Cincinnati Elder, Springfield, Canton McKinley and Steubenville before Niles pulled the surprise last week.

Groat Named MVP In National Loop

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Dick Groat, captain and shortstop of the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates, today was selected the National League's most valuable player for 1960, ending the two-year domination of Chicago's Ernie Banks.

Groat, who led the Pirates to their first pennant in 33 years, won in a landslide.

He was named first on 16 of the 22 ballots cast by a special committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America, was listed on every ballot and picked up 276 points in the voting, far ahead of teammate Don Hoak, who was second with 162.

"It's a wonderful thrill, of course," the Pirates' field leader said from his home in Pittsburgh, then quickly gave credit to the team.

"I honestly feel it wouldn't have been possible without the fabulous year enjoyed by the Pirates. Just to play on the club was great, just great. It was a wonderful team effort and I was just a part of it."

He was the first Pirate named to the coveted award since the writers took over the selection in 1931. And his teammates drew all the other first place votes, Hoak getting five and strong-armed outfielder Roberto Clemente one. Clemente finished eighth in the voting.

San Francisco's Willie Mays was named on 21 ballots and was third with 115 points. Banks, Chicago's hard-hitting shortstop, was fourth with 100 points.

DICK GROAT
Pirate Star Honored.

Groat, the National League batting champion with a .325 average, came to the Pirates straight from the Duke University campus in 1952.

The 30-year-old native of Swissvale, Pa. included only two home runs in his 186 hits last season, but was generally credited with being the sparkplug of Pittsburgh's drive to the pennant.

He suffered a broken bone in his wrist when struck by a Lew Burdette pitch Sept. 6, and didn't rejoin the team until the final week of the season.

600 Fans See Jaycee Game

The All-American Red Heads pulled a "major upset" and won the battle of the sexes by tripping the East Lierpool All-Stars, 50-49, Wednesday night at Memorial Auditorium.

A good turnout of some 600 fans watched the contest sponsored by the East Liverpool Jaycees for the group's youth activities and "toys for tots" program.

Mixing fun with basketball, the Red Heads kept the crowd laughing but managed to play some serious basketball and came on with a late rush in the fourth quarter to nip the male All-Stars.

Jan Hardy was the comedienne of the Red Heads while on the more serious side was Shelby Tedder who poured in 24 points to pace the girls.

The Red Heads trailed 42-32 going into the fourth quarter, then came racing from behind, finally winning on a pair of foul shots by Ella Cross in the waning seconds of the game.

The All-Stars, composed of ex-college and high school stars from East Liverpool, Wellsville and Chester, were paced by Potter cage coach Jim Harris who dropped in 15 points while Frank Chan, ELHS reserve coach, had 10.

In a preliminary contest, Wellsville pulled away in the second half to tackle, Midland, 66-57. Chuck Zerger, former Tiltonsville ace now at Steubenville College, led the winners with 20 points, while Dan Baldwin added 12.

Former Band Director To Return Here

John Weitzel, director of the Alliance High School Band, will be returning to familiar grounds Friday night, when he leads his band through halftime routine at the Alliance - East Liverpool football game.

Weitzel also will be pitting his bandsmen against a former student of his who is in his first year as director of the Potter band.

Weitzel, who is manager of the Band-Orch Music Store in Alliance, was hired as the marching band director this year when veteran bandmaster Eric Duro asked to be relieved because of ill health. Duro retains the concert band.

For the Alliance band's final show, a salute to musical arranger George M. Cohan is planned. Numbers will include "Give My Regards to Broadway," "Yankee Doodle Boy," "Grand Old Flag," all Cohan numbers. The band will conclude its show with "Stars and Stripes Forever."

More Days Meant More Money In Ohio Racing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—More days of horse racing meant more money wagered this year, the Ohio Racing Commission says.

The commission has this report on activities at the nine running, seven harness and 22 county fair tracks in Ohio:

Total handle was $131,469,816 (complared with the $128,850,828 handed through pari-mutuel windows in 1959). Winning bettors divided $107,751,376, and track operators got $14,121,508. Taxes, the levy to subsidize county fairs and their harness race programs, and breakage (odd cents) took care of the rest.

Running tracks had a total of 38 more days of racing than last year, harness tracks had a total of 30 more, and the county fair total was one day less. Several tracks added a ninth race.

Pitt, Penn State Game Seen Defensive Battle

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — The Pitt-Penn State game Saturday is shaping up as a defensive battle.

Pitt's big line has given up only nine touchdowns in nine games this year. And the Lion forward wall is pretty tough also, says Penn State coach Rip Engle.

"It's the hardest hitting and hardest working line I've had in my eleven years at Penn State. I don't say it's the best line I've ever coached up here, but it certainly is the hardest working and hardest hitting.

"Because they're young, these boys have made their share of mistakes. That's why they're not the best. But I've never seen a group try harder or put out as much as this one.

"I'm really proud of the way they've come along since our early games. The improvement has been noticeable from week to week ever since the Missouri game."

Engle believes the Panthers will be tougher to handle this week because of their tie with Army last Saturday.

Engle said, "They'll try to atone for their mistakes in that one by trying to take it out on us. But we'll be ready for them."

Gophers Face Top Gainer In Badgers' Star

CHICAGO (AP) — Minnesota, needing a closing Big Ten victory at Wisconsin Saturday to share the football title with Iowa, will face the conference's best yard gainer and top pass receiver.

The Badgers' Ron Miller, according to official statistics today, is the leader in total offense and teammate Tom Wiesner is No. 1 in pass catching.

Sophomore Miller, although handicapped the last several weeks with sprained ankles, has gained a total of 903 yards in six games for a 5.9 average. He also is tops in aerial yardage with 860 in 62 out of 120 strikes, plus 3 touchdowns.

Ranked No. 1 however, in passing is Ohio State's Tom Matte who faces Michigan Saturday. Matte has 30 completions in 58 attempts for 441 yards, 4 touchdowns and only 3 interceptions. Miller has had 10 passes stolen. Bernie Allen of Purdue, No. 3 passer, has hit on 49 of 83 for 601 yards.

Wiesner, a fullback, has snared 15 passes for 276 yards. El Kimbrough of Northwestern is second in this category with 16 catches for 229. Jim Tiller of Purdue has more receptions, 18, but they netted only 188 yards.

Ohio State's Bob Ferguson is the rushing leader with 480 yards in 98 carries for a 4.9 average. Matte is next with a net of 430 in 85 for 5.1. Iowa's Larry Ferguson has the best average, 6.7.

Matte also is second in total offense, adding 441 passing yards to his rushing yardage for 871. Allen is next with 712 yards in all.

Other leaders: Scoring—Wilburn Hollis, Iowa, 48 points; punting—Jim Bakken, Wisconsin 22 for 42.0; punt returns — Marshall Starks, Illinois, 6 for 10.1; kickoff returns—Gerry Mauren, Iowa, 7 for 24.1; interceptions—Bill Munsey, Minnesota, 4 for 92.

Ohio State continues as the leader on offense with average of 24.4 points, 16 first downs and 335.6 yards to hold a slight margin over Iowa and Michigan State.

The Hawkeyes, who defeated the Buckeyes 35-12 last week and have completed their conference slate with a 5-1 mark, have averaged 27.2 points, 15.5 first downs and 303.5 yards.

Minnesota holds a slim edge over Michigan and Northwestern on defense. The Gophers have yielded averages of 8.6 points, 14.6 first downs and 234.8 yards.

As League Moves Forward

Owners Of New AL Clubs Will Be Announced Today

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—The American League will shed more light on its 1961 expansion plans today when it names the owners of the new franchises in Washington and Los Angeles and begins to stock the clubs with talent from its own rosters.

Although the league still must clear a preplexing legislative hurdle in its conflict with the National League for sharing the Los Angeles territory, it is moving ahead confidently.

The American League believes it can counter any objections by the National League by throwing a similar road block in front of the National's plans to move into New York in 1962.

Commissioner Ford Frick, who says he will insist on a "fair and equitable" amendment of the baseball territorial rule before he casts a decisive vote, Wednesday urged the two groups to get together. The joint major league meetings are scheduled for St. Louis Dec. 8.

Both Joe Cronin, American League president, and Warren Giles, National League president, have huddled with Frick several times since the American made its surprising decision to expand last month.

The general managers of the league sweated away Wednesday on a plan for stocking the new clubs. This plan has been discussed, on and off, for over a year. Roughly, it is based on the "disaster plan" to provide talent for a team in case of a plane or train accident. Each team would give up seven players from its 40-man roster, providing a total of 56 players to be divided between the two new teams.

Hank Greenberg will head the new Los Angeles franchise, when and if. He has been to California to get dates in the Coliseum which his club will share with the Dodgers. One of his associates is to be J. A. Smith, an industrialist and part owner of the San Diego team.

Although there are differences between two bidding groups for the Washington franchise, it was believed eventually they will get together for a joint bid. Elwood Quesada, Federal Aviation Agency administrator, of Washington, heads one group. John J. Bergen, whose organization owns Madison Square Garden in New York, heads the other.

Pistons Hand Warriors Third Straight Defeat

By The Associated Press

The Philadelphia Warriors, who couldn't lose early in the season, now can't win.

The Eastern Division leaders in the National Basketball Association suffered their third straight setback as they lost 119-118 Wednesday night to the red-hot Detroit Pistons. It was the Pistons' fourth straight victory.

In other games Wednesday night the Syracuse Nationals smothered the Cincinnati Royals 124-87 and the Boston Celtics outpointed St. Louis 124-106.

Third Largest Daily Double Payoff Of $8,711 Won By 5

ALBANY, Calif. (AP) — Five daily double bettors hooked up a "miracle" horse with a "bum" and came off with payoffs of $8,711 each for their $2 bet at Golden Gate Fields.

The same racing reporter happened to ask jockey Roy Yaka what he thought of his mount, Covinan, a starter in the second race.

Four of the five lucky long-shot players dutifully turned in their names and addresses to the cashier to comply with new federal income tax regulations requiring such information from $2 daily double winners of more than $600.

The fifth happy soul did not appear. None was identified.

The $8,711 was the third largest in daily double history.

Bucks' Safety Man Returns To Drills

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State's defensive safety man, junior Ron Houck, is back in action. Houck received a thigh bruise against Iowa last Saturday and had not worked out until he joined in Wednesday's drill.

It was a short but spirited practice in preparation for the Buckeye gridders' season swindup here against Michigan Saturday.

Major Felix (Doc) Blanchard, former Army All-America, is on duty with the U.S. Air Force in England.

King And 'His Court' Here Friday

Aviator Halfback Rated One Of Top Runners In Buckeye Football

Out Alliance way, Charlie King, a sure-fire bet for the All-Ohio backfield, is considered the greatest halfback Alliance has ever produced.

This statement takes in a lot of ground considering that such backs as Tom Barnett and Harry Hume have performed for the Aviators.

Barnett went on to star at Purdue and is currently the starting halfback with the Pittsburgh Steelers in the NFL. Hume led the state in scoring and was one of Ohio's all-time pointmakers in the early 1940's.

East Liverpool fans will get a glimpse of "The King And His Court," when he leads the Alliance Aviators to town Friday night.

Alliance invades Patterson Field ranked as the third best team in the state, but is on the rebound after losing in an upset to Niles, 16-14, last week.

The only other defeat on the Alliance schedule was to Massillon, 14-10, earlier in the season.

King and quarterback Bob Wallace, who throws long and deep, have been the big offensive guns of the Aviators.

The shifty 175-pound halfback is the leading scorer in Stark County with 136 points, averaging 6.7 yards per carry. In the Aviators' 54-38 victory over Steubenville Big Red, King scored 6 touchdowns and picked up 345 yards himself.

Ed DeGraw, sports editor of the Alliance Review, says "even when the opposition sets its defense for King, he still makes yardage."

While the Potters will have their hands full with King on the ground, they also must protect against the fine throwing arm of Wallace.

He was hit on 50 per cent of his passes this season and has thrown for 10 touchdowns. Through the air he has amassed 1,008 yards. His favorite target is end Sam Longmire, a 175-pounder who has caught six touchdowns throws.

The top lineman for the Aviators is Dick Knaus, a 205-pounder who is being pushed for All-Ohio honors. The other tackle is Ray Tunelius (185).

Alliance started the season with three straight victories. Coach Mel Knowlton's squad tripped Elyria, 28-0, stopped Akron Central, 40-6, then tripped Cuyahoga Falls, 18-13.

Massillon had to come from behind to nip Alliance, 14-10, then another win streak started with victories over Akron St. Vincent, Cincinnati Elder, Springfield, Canton McKinley and Steubenville before Niles pulled the surprise last week.

Groat Named MVP In National Loop

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Dick Groat, captain and shortstop of the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates, today was selected the National League's most valuable player for 1960, ending the two-year domination of Chicago's Ernie Banks.

Groat, who led the Pirates to their first pennant in 33 years, won in a landslide.

He was named first on 16 of the 22 ballots cast by a special committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America, was listed on every ballot and picked up 276 points in the voting, far ahead of teammate Don Hoak, who was second with 162.

"It's a wonderful thrill, of course," the Pirates' field leader said from his home in Pittsburgh, then quickly gave credit to the team.

"I honestly feel it wouldn't have been possible without the fabulous year enjoyed by the Pirates. Just to play on the club was great, just great. It was a wonderful team effort and I was just a part of it."

He was the first Pirate named to the coveted award since the writers took over the selection in 1931. And his teammates drew all the other first place votes, Hoak getting five and strong-armed outfielder Roberto Clemente one. Clemente finished eighth in the voting.

San Francisco's Willie Mays was named on 21 ballots and was third with 115 points. Banks, Chicago's hard-hitting shortstop, was fourth with 100 points.

DICK GROAT
Pirate Star Honored.

Groat, the National League batting champion with a .325 average, came to the Pirates straight from the Duke University campus in 1952.

The 30-year-old native of Swissvale, Pa. included only two home runs in his 186 hits last season, but was generally credited with being the sparkplug of Pittsburgh's drive to the pennant.

He suffered a broken bone in his wrist when struck by a Lew Burdette pitch Sept. 6, and didn't rejoin the team until the final week of the season.

'Tag Day' Set Saturday By Little Potters Loop

The Little Potters Basketball League will hold its first annual "tag day" Saturday in the downtown area. Proceeds will go to support two basketball leagues for youngsters which will get underway the last week of this month.

Former Band Director To Return Here

Preview Meeting Set Tonight In Wellsville

Plans for the annual basketball preview Dec. 1 at 7:30 p.m. in Wellsville's Beacom Memorial Gym will be completed when coaches of the six schools participating meet tonight at 6:30 in Piatt's Tea Room in Wellsville. Preview teams include East Liverpool, Wellsville, Stanton Local, Toronto, Steubenville Central, and Jefferson Union, according to Don Lowe, faculty manager.

Weitzel also will be pitting his bandsmen against a former student of his who is in his first year as director of the Potter band.

Weitzel, who is manager of the Band-Orch Music Store in Alliance, was hired as the marching band director this year when veteran bandmaster Eric Duro asked to be relieved because of ill health. Duro retains the concert band.

For the Alliance band's final show, a salute to musical arranger George M. Cohan is planned. Numbers will include "Give My Regards to Broadway," "Yankee Doodle Boy," "Grand Old Flag," all Cohan numbers. The band will conclude its show with "Stars and Stripes Forever."

More Days Meant More Money In Ohio Racing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—More days of horse racing meant more money wagered this year, the Ohio Racing Commission says.

The commission has this report on activities at the nine running, seven harness and 22 county fair tracks in Ohio:

Taxes, the levy to subsidize county fairs and their harness race programs, and breakage (odd cents) took care of the rest.

Running tracks had a total of 38 more days of racing than last year, harness tracks had a total of 30 more, and the county fair total was one day less. Several tracks added a ninth race.

Wife Of Duke Grid Coach Takes Seasons In Stride

By NOEL YANCEY

DURHAM, N.C. (AP)—A winning or losing season—they don't make as much difference in the home life of a football coach as you might imagine.

At least, Carolyn Kirby Murray says she's able to take either one in stride.

"You don't think much about whether it's a losing season or a winning season," she says, "you just worry about the next game that's to be played."

Mrs. Murray is the wife of William D. (Bill) Murray, coach of the Duke Blue Devils, whose team is having a winning year and is ranked sixth in the nation. Last year, the Blue Devils had a loser—winning four games while losing six, including a 50-0 shellacking at the hands of arch-rival North Carolina.

"When you win, Saturday night is much happier than when you lose," she admits, "and Sunday morning is lots of fun—reading about the game in the papers. When Duke loses, the women in the house just stick to the society pages."

How about the coach?

"He reacts the same way I do, and I feel most coaches do that," she answered. "It's the one ahead that occupies your thoughts and energies. I know people think it gets you down. It really doesn't. Of course, you're disappointed when you lose a game, especially a close one."

And how did she feel when Duke was taking that 50-0 drubbing from North Carolina?

Oh, she said, "it's the close ones that really hurt. It takes longer to talk them out of your system than the ones where you should have stood in bed that day."

Woman Left $50,000 To Missionary Cause

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—A woman thwarted in her ambition to be a missionary has left her entire $50,000 estate so that, as she said in a letter, God's call for missionaries could be answered.

Over 50 years ago Miss Anna H. Fox felt that God had called her to be a missionary. But she stayed home to take care of her mother who was ill.

She taught school in Tennessee and Georgia all of her life and on Nov. 8 died at the age of 80. Her will for probate Wednesday directed that her real and personal property be used to set up the Anna H. Fox Foreign Mission Trust Fund.

Unidentified Hunter Sought In Gun Death

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Montgomery County officials today sought an unidentified hunter who unknowingly shot and killed Daniel Southard, 15, of nearby West Carrollton Wednesday. The boy died in the arms of his cousin, Robert Allison, 15, of Maryville, Tenn.

Allison told deputies that he and Southard were hunting near West Carrollton. Southard was reloading a shotgun, Allison related, when he suddenly doubled over and said, "My God, I'm shot!" The coroner's office said Southard died from a .22-caliber bullet wound in the stomach.

Boy Killed Accidentally When Gun Discharges

MOUNT GILEAD, Ohio (AP)—A 7-year-old Cardington boy was killed accidentally in his home Wednesday night when a shotgun discharged and struck him.

Morrow County sheriff's deputies said James Barnett apparently reached into a closet to get a jacket when the gun fell out and struck the floor. The gun, which didn't have a trigger safety catch, went off and the charge struck the boy.

LSU Coach Says Those 3-Pointers 'Are Killing Me'

By The Associated Press

Louisiana State's erudite Paul Dietzel might be forgiven for a lapse in grammar if he should moan:

"It's them field goals that's killing me."

Latest major college statistics, released today by the NCAA Service Bureau, show LSU has yielded only 44 points in eight games, an average of 5.5 a game. Except for field goals, the average would be 2.5, for LSU's opponents have averaged a field goal a game against Dietzel's Tigers.

What's more, the three pointers have accounted for three LSU losses and one tie. Without them the team would have a 7-1 season record instead of 3-4-1.

Other team defense leaders include: total defense — Wyoming, average yield 148.3 yards a game; rushing defense — Utah State, 79.0 yards; forward pass defense — Iowa State, 30.4 yards; punting — Georgia, 43.6-yard average on 34 kicks.

Major changes in the past week saw Mississippi jump from 10 to second in the total defense rankings, and Utah State and Wyoming move up in rushing defense as Missouri gave up 323 yards to Oklahoma and dropped to fifth.

Hope To Get Pipe

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—Officials of the Clinton Water Co. said today they hoped to have some five miles of rented aluminum pipe on hand early next week through which they plan to pump water from Lake Cowan into the Wilmington system. Plans to acquire pipe and pumping equipment through the Office of Civil Defense went awry when the pipe was found to be of steel, hence would cost much more to transport, and that it was located at Marion, Ohio, not Columbus as first reported. The emergency setup is necessary, officials said, to bolster the city's dwindling water supply in the face of lack of rain and increased consumption.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The roller skating industry — which chooses its national roller skate queen for looks, poise and personality rather than skating ability—has selected a Cincinnati girl for 1960-61. She is Mariam (Mimi) Hill, a 19-year-old brunette who won over 34 other girls.

Brown Feels Defense Has Been Adequate

CLEVELAND (AP)—To critics who say the Cleveland Browns' defense has serious shortcomings, especially rushing the opposing passer, Coach Paul Brown has this to say:

"Opponents' points are the only thing that count defensively and we rate pretty well. There always is room for improvement.

"We made a number of defensive changes this year. We knew there would be mistakes and that once in a while we'd get nipped on a big one.

The figure on "opponents' points" bears out the coach's contention. The Browns have permitted 136 points in seven games—or slightly more than 19 points per game. Only the Green Bay Packers (119) and the New York Giants (131) have better marks.

"I think it's a natural tendency for hometown fans to think their team isn't getting the opposing passer enough," Evans said. "Some passers are tougher to get to than others.

"We'll get better, too, as the new fellows get that know-how that comes with experience."

Figures released by the National Football League indicate that Cleveland's Milt Plum has been thrown for more losses than any other passer. The Browns have lost 218 yards attempting to pass. But Plum has had no passes intercepted.

By contrast, Pittsburgh, Cleveland's foe this week, has lost only 51 yards with Bobby Layne at the helm most of the time. Layne has had 10 passes stolen.

Paul Wiggin, the Browns' defensive end, was asked about rushing the passer, a job he does so well.

"You have to beat the man trying to block you in most cases to get to the passer," he replied.

"Experience helps. I think we have a good defense now and it could be great with just a little more know-how. It took time for those Giants to get as tough as they are."

Sellout Crowd Is Expected At OSU-Michigan Contest

By DICK PYLE

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—The championship flavor that's so much a part of the Michigan-Ohio State football tradition will be missing Saturday, but the Wolverines will face the Buckeyes with no less a will to win.

Already assured of a winning record and gunning for their most successful season since 1956, the revitalized Wolverines will use every resource to wind up the year in distinguished style.

The sellout crowd at Columbus can expect to see a free-wheeling attack, built around a couple of renegade sophomores from Ohio and geared for speed.

It can expect a defensive line accustomed to being outweighed by 10 to 15 pounds per man but seldom outplayed.

It can expect a few surprises from Bump Elliott, the blond ex-All-American who, as player or coach, has never seen Michigan lose to Ohio State.

In his second year as U-M head coach, Elliott has worked relative wonders with a crop of players considered by most Wolverine followers to be not overly talented.

Forsaking the quarterback-fullback combination so popular in the Big Ten, Elliott has found his greatest strength in a promising group of halfbacks.

The most exciting of these is Dave Raimey, a Dayton, Ohio, sophomore who leads the Wolverines with a 4.9 yards-per-try average and six touchdowns.

He has teamed with sophomore quarterback Dave Glinka of Toledo, as chief engineers in the construction of a 5-3 record. Blinka, in eight games, has completed 44 of 107 passes, five for touchdowns.

Raimey suffered an ankle injury against Illinois and did not dress in last week's 29-7 victory over Indiana. But he has worked out lightly this week and likely will play Saturday.

Always cautious and sometimes downright alarmist, Elliott is full of dire words for those who blithely predict a repeat of last year's 23-14 Michigan upset victory.

"Don't let that Iowa game fool you," he warned. "Iowa was ready to beat anybody and bear in mind that even in defeat, Ohio State gained over 400 yards.

"Tom Matte and Bob Ferguson may be the best offensive pair we've seen this year. Ohio State, in fact, may be tougher than Minneota." Minnesota beat Michigan, 10-0.

Hunt Is On For Hockey Talent As Tryouts Open

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) —A year has scattered Uncle Sam's hockey stars who scored a championship sweep in last year's Winter Olympics.

The team that succeeds them this season as the U.S. national squad will be playing under vast handicaps, and no one knows it better than the coach.

"People definitely will be comparing the nationals with the Olympic championship team," said Connie Pleban, 46, Duluth insurance man. "And we probably won't have more than two or three of those players back.

"We'll be young and rather inexperienced, but we hope that by the time we reach Switzerland for the world championships we will be a strong unit."

Only Larry Palmer, a goalie from Wakefield, Mass., and John Kirrane, Brookline, Mass., defenseman, definitely plan to be back. Billy Christian, Warroad, Minn., one of the most valuable players on the 1960 team, may be back.

Tryouts will be conducted in Minneapolis Nov. 25-26 and Boston Nov. 28-29.

"We want to emphasize these tryouts are open to any boy interested in playing on the 1961 team," Pleban said.

The 20 or 22 players picked from those tryouts will train in Duluth beginning Dec. 11 and start the annual domestic tour Dec. 16 against Minnesota prior to competing on a European swing leading up to the World Games.

West Virginia Slates Class AA Grid Playoff

LOGAN (AP) — It will be Mount Hope's rockribbed defense against Williamson's offensive power here Saturday in the playoff for the Class AA state high school football championship.

The Mustangs from Mount Hope, defending co-champs, have had only six points scored against them during the 10-game schedule this season. On the other hand, Williamson's Wolfpack has managed to score at least two touchdowns in each of the 10 games on its regular season card.

Some observers feel that the weather will have a lot to do with the outcome. A wet field will favor the Mustangs, a dry one will prove of more benefit to the Wolfpack.

MSU Eyes 3rd Straight Cross Country Title

'Lost Weekend' Cited By Quebec In Hockey

By The Associated Press

The Quebec Aces are calling last weekend the "lost weekend."

Losing two games while Springfield was winning a pair dropped the Aces four points off the pacesetting Indians and they are having trouble making up lost ground.

The Canadian team had a chance Wednesday night to close in while Springfield was idle but instead dropped a 4-2 decision to the Hershey Bears.

'61 TORSION-SPRING CHEVROLETS

If you don't think scrapping the front axle has made a world of difference, you haven't driven a Chevy in a while. A few minutes behind the wheel and you can feel why drivers are happier and breakable loads are better protected. But the biggest advantage of all, you'll realize, is that the truck itself (sheet metal, tires, chassis components, everything) takes less abuse. With independent front suspension soaking up road shock and vibration, the truck lasts longer, goes extra thousands of miles before trade-in time. Add that to what everybody's always known about Chevy dependability and you find yourself looking at the soundest truck investment you could bet your business on. CHEVROLET

and look! NEW REAR-ENGINE CORVAIR 95's

A panel and two pickups that put a thrifty air-cooled engine in the rear, the driver up front and as much as 1,900 pounds of load space in between! That's more capacity than a conventional half-tonner. Yet these Corvair 95's are nearly two feet shorter from bumper to bumper. Highly maneuverable. Wife Of Duke Grid Coach Takes Seasons In Stride

By NOEL YANCEY

DURHAM, N.C. (AP)—A winning or losing season—they don't make as much difference in the home life of a football coach as you might imagine.

At least, Carolyn Kirby Murray says she's able to take either one in stride.

"You don't think much about whether it's a losing season or a winning season," she says, "you just worry about the next game that's to be played."

Mrs. Murray is the wife of William D. (Bill) Murray, coach of the Duke Blue Devils, whose team is having a winning year and is ranked sixth in the nation. Last year, the Blue Devils had a loser—winning four games while losing six, including a 50-0 shellacking at the hands of arch-rival North Carolina.

"When you win, Saturday night is much happier than when you lose," she admits, "and Sunday morning is lots of fun—reading about the game in the papers. When Duke loses, the women in the house just stick to the society pages."

How about the coach?

"He reacts the same way I do, and I feel most coaches do that," she answered. "It's the one ahead that occupies your thoughts and energies. I know people think it gets you down. It really doesn't. Of course, you're disappointed when you lose a game, especially a close one."

And how did she feel when Duke was taking that 50-0 drubbing from North Carolina?

Oh, she said, "it's the close ones that really hurt. It takes longer to talk them out of your system than the ones where you should have stood in bed that day."

Woman Left $50,000 To Missionary Cause

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—A woman thwarted in her ambition to be a missionary has left her entire $50,000 estate so that, as she said in a letter, God's call for missionaries could be answered.

Over 50 years ago Miss Anna H. Fox felt that God had called her to be a missionary. But she stayed home to take care of her mother who was ill.

She taught school in Tennessee and Georgia all of her life and on Nov. 8 died at the age of 80. Her will for probate Wednesday directed that her real and personal property be used to set up the Anna H. Fox Foreign Mission Trust Fund.

Unidentified Hunter Sought In Gun Death

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Montgomery County officials today sought an unidentified hunter who unknowingly shot and killed Daniel Southard, 15, of nearby West Carrollton Wednesday. The boy died in the arms of his cousin, Robert Allison, 15, of Maryville, Tenn.

Allison told deputies that he and Southard were hunting near West Carrollton. Southard was reloading a shotgun, Allison related, when he suddenly doubled over and said, "My God, I'm shot!" The coroner's office said Southard died from a .22-caliber bullet wound in the stomach.

Boy Killed Accidentally When Gun Discharges

MOUNT GILEAD, Ohio (AP)—A 7-year-old Cardington boy was killed accidentally in his home Wednesday night when a shotgun discharged and struck him.

Morrow County sheriff's deputies said James Barnett apparently reached into a closet to get a jacket when the gun fell out and struck the floor. The gun, which didn't have a trigger safety catch, went off and the charge struck the boy.

Hope To Get Pipe

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—Officials of the Clinton Water Co. said today they hoped to have some five miles of rented aluminum pipe on hand early next week through which they plan to pump water from Lake Cowan into the Wilmington system. Plans to acquire pipe and pumping equipment through the Office of Civil Defense went awry when the pipe was found to be of steel, hence would cost much more to transport, and that it was located at Marion, Ohio, not Columbus as first reported. The emergency setup is necessary, officials said, to bolster the city's dwindling water supply in the face of lack of rain and increased consumption.

LSU Coach Says Those 3-Pointers 'Are Killing Me'

By The Associated Press

Louisiana State's erudite Paul Dietzel might be forgiven for a lapse in grammar if he should moan:

"It's them field goals that's killing me."

Latest major college statistics, released today by the NCAA Service Bureau, show LSU has yielded only 44 points in eight games, an average of 5.5 a game. Except for field goals, the average would be 2.5, for LSU's opponents have averaged a field goal a game against Dietzel's Tigers.

What's more, the three pointers have accounted for three LSU losses and one tie. Without them the team would have a 7-1 season record instead of 3-4-1.

Other team defense leaders include: total defense — Wyoming, average yield 148.3 yards a game; rushing defense — Utah State, 79.0 yards; forward pass defense — Iowa State, 30.4 yards; punting — Georgia, 43.6-yard average on 34 kicks.

Major changes in the past week saw Mississippi jump from 10 to second in the total defense rankings, and Utah State and Wyoming move up in rushing defense as Missouri gave up 323 yards to Oklahoma and dropped to fifth.

Brown Feels Defense Has Been Adequate

CLEVELAND (AP)—To critics who say the Cleveland Browns' defense has serious shortcomings, especially rushing the opposing passer, Coach Paul Brown has this to say:

"Opponents' points are the only thing that count defensively and we rate pretty well. There always is room for improvement.

"We made a number of defensive changes this year. We knew there would be mistakes and that once in a while we'd get nipped on a big one.

The figure on "opponents' points" bears out the coach's contention. The Browns have permitted 136 points in seven games—or slightly more than 19 points per game. Only the Green Bay Packers (119) and the New York Giants (131) have better marks.

"I think it's a natural tendency for hometown fans to think their team isn't getting the opposing passer enough," Evans said. "Some passers are tougher to get to than others.

Figures released by the National Football League indicate that Cleveland's Milt Plum has been thrown for more losses than any other passer. The Browns have lost 218 yards attempting to pass. But Plum has had no passes intercepted.

By contrast, Pittsburgh, Cleveland's foe this week, has lost only 51 yards with Bobby Layne at the helm most of the time. Layne has had 10 passes stolen.

Paul Wiggin, the Browns' defensive end, was asked about rushing the passer, a job he does so well.

"You have to beat the man trying to block you in most cases to get to the passer," he replied.

"Experience helps. I think we have a good defense now and it could be great with just a little more know-how. It took time for those Giants to get as tough as they are."

West Virginia Slates Class AA Grid Playoff

LOGAN (AP) — It will be Mount Hope's rockribbed defense against Williamson's offensive power here Saturday in the playoff for the Class AA state high school football championship.

The Mustangs from Mount Hope, defending co-champs, have had only six points scored against them during the 10-game schedule this season. On the other hand, Williamson's Wolfpack has managed to score at least two touchdowns in each of the 10 games on its regular season card.

Some observers feel that the weather will have a lot to do with the outcome. A wet field will favor the Mustangs, a dry one will prove of more benefit to the Wolfpack.

Sellout Crowd Is Expected At OSU-Michigan Contest

By DICK PYLE

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—The championship flavor that's so much a part of the Michigan-Ohio State football tradition will be missing Saturday, but the Wolverines will face the Buckeyes with no less a will to win.

Already assured of a winning record and gunning for their most successful season since 1956, the revitalized Wolverines will use every resource to wind up the year in distinguished style.

The sellout crowd at Columbus can expect to see a free-wheeling attack, built around a couple of renegade sophomores from Ohio and geared for speed.

It can expect a few surprises from Bump Elliott, the blond ex-All-American who, as player or coach, has never seen Michigan lose to Ohio State.

In his second year as U-M head coach, Elliott has worked relative wonders with a crop of players considered by most Wolverine followers to be not overly talented.

Forsaking the quarterback-fullback combination so popular in the Big Ten, Elliott has found his greatest strength in a promising group of halfbacks.

The most exciting of these is Dave Raimey, a Dayton, Ohio, sophomore who leads the Wolverines with a 4.9 yards-per-try average and six touchdowns.

He has teamed with sophomore quarterback Dave Glinka of Toledo, as chief engineers in the construction of a 5-3 record. Blinka, in eight games, has completed 44 of 107 passes, five for touchdowns.

Raimey suffered an ankle injury against Illinois and did not dress in last week's 29-7 victory over Indiana. But he has worked out lightly this week and likely will play Saturday.

Always cautious and sometimes downright alarmist, Elliott is full of dire words for those who blithely predict a repeat of last year's 23-14 Michigan upset victory.

"Don't let that Iowa game fool you," he warned. "Iowa was ready to beat anybody and bear in mind that even in defeat, Ohio State gained over 400 yards.

"Tom Matte and Bob Ferguson may be the best offensive pair we've seen this year. Ohio State, in fact, may be tougher than Minneota." Minnesota beat Michigan, 10-0.

Hunt Is On For Hockey Talent As Tryouts Open

The team that succeeds them this season as the U.S. national squad will be playing under vast handicaps, and no one knows it better than the coach.

"People definitely will be comparing the nationals with the Olympic championship team," said Connie Pleban, 46, Duluth insurance man. "And we probably won't have more than two or three of those players back.

"We'll be young and rather inexperienced, but we hope that by the time we reach Switzerland for the world championships we will be a strong unit."

Tryouts will be conducted in Minneapolis Nov. 25-26 and Boston Nov. 28-29.

"We want to emphasize these tryouts are open to any boy interested in playing on the 1961 team," Pleban said.

The 20 or 22 players picked from those tryouts will train in Duluth beginning Dec. 11 and start the annual domestic tour Dec. 16 against Minnesota prior to competing on a European swing leading up to the World Games.

'Lost Weekend' Cited By Quebec In Hockey

By The Associated Press

Losing two games while Springfield was winning a pair dropped the Aces four points off the pacesetting Indians and they are having trouble making up lost ground.

The Canadian team had a chance Wednesday night to close in while Springfield was idle but instead dropped a 4-2 decision to the Hershey Bears.

'61 TORSION-SPRING CHEVROLETS

If you don't think scrapping the front axle has made a world of difference, you haven't driven a Chevy in a while. A few minutes behind the wheel and you can feel why drivers are happier and breakable loads are better protected. But the biggest advantage of all, you'll realize, is that the truck itself (sheet metal, tires, chassis components, everything) takes less abuse. With independent front suspension soaking up road shock and vibration, the truck lasts longer, goes extra thousands of miles before trade-in time. Add that to what everybody's always known about Chevy dependability and you find yourself looking at the soundest truck investment you could bet your business on. CHEVROLET

and look! NEW REAR-ENGINE CORVAIR 95's

A panel and two pickups that put a thrifty air-cooled engine in the rear, the driver up front and as much as 1,900 pounds of load space in between! That's more capacity than a conventional half-tonner. Yet these Corvair 95's are nearly two feet shorter from bumper to bumper. Highly maneuverable. Built to last and bound to save on a busy schedule!

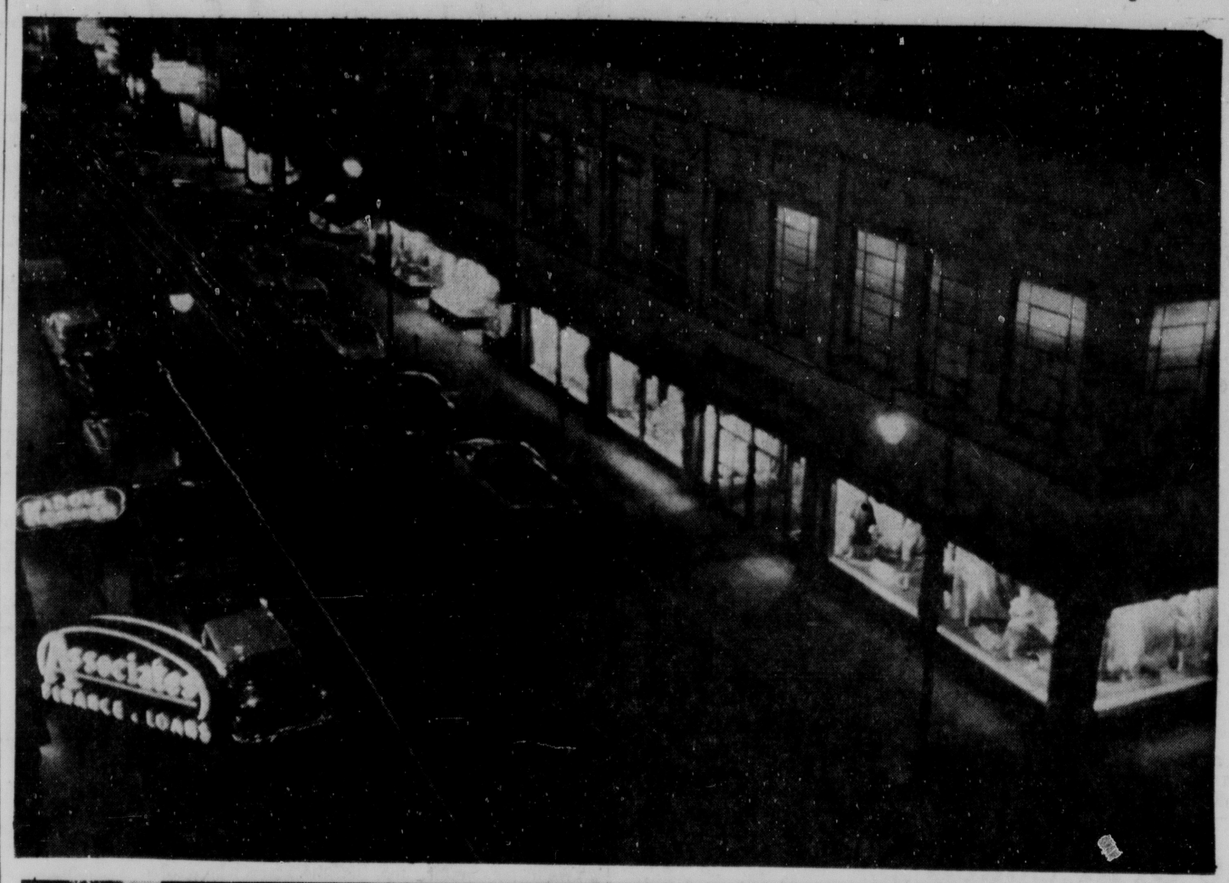
Downtown Demonstration

New Street Lighting Makes It 'Bright As Day'



Bathed in the brillance radiated by three new street light fixtures, the center of East Liverpool's business district took on a "bright-as-day" appearance for both pedestrians and motorists Wednesday night.

The photos, a "before" and "after" view of the test strip on E. 5th St., show vividly the difference between 21-year-old light fixtures and a new installation that demonstrates the last word in business district lighting.

At the top is a view of E. 5th St., looking west toward the Diamond, as it appeared at night under the old lighting fixtures. The bottom view of the same stretch shows the brillance cast by three new fluorescent fixtures that were installed on a test basis yesterday and turned on for the first time last night.

Both photographs were taken from the roof of the Potters Bank & Trust Co. building.

Installation of the fixtures was arranged with the Ohio Power Co. by the East Liverpool Merchants Association to illustrate for businessmen, shoppers and motorists the difference between antiquated and modern lighting facilities. They will remain in place for several weeks.

The three fixtures formerly in place in the half - block stretch each produced 6,000 lumens, a utility company "yardstick" of light that is the equivalent to 600 candlepower. That meant the stretch received a total of 1,800 candlepower.

Each of the new lights carries four fluorescent tubes five feet long. The fixtures are mounted in the half - block stretch between Washington St. and Crook Alley. Two are on the south side of E. 5th at either end of the test strip and the other is on the north side at the midway point.

William Black, district manager of Ohio Power, said the fluorescent tubes are the highest output type manufactured today. No other city in the Ohio Power system has fluorescent fixtures of comparable output, he added.

The lighting demonstration is a project of the downtown improvement committee and the executive committee of ELMA, which include Don Eckert, Richard Kerin, Edwin Maloney, George A. Shaw, Leslie Blumenthal, Ralph A. Finley, Dayton Allen and E. C. Derr.

The ELMA committee said the demonstration was arranged with the help of City Council and the administration, as the officials are interested in the new lighting system.

Medical Society's Auxiliary Airs Education Fund Projects

Projects for the American Medical Education Fund were stressed at the meeting of the auxiliary of the Columbiana County Medical Society Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. C. W. Dewalt of Columbiana.

Mrs. R. J. Bonistelli, AMEF chairman, announced net Christmas trees will be sold along with holiday candles and brooms. She also reported proceeds from the recent card party. Anyone interested in the items may call the chairman.

Mrs. K. W. Turner, president, opened the meeting, reading a poem by Mrs. Marian Foster Smith, who will be speaker for the meeting of the City Federation of Women's Clubs Nov. 30 at the Mary Patterson Memorial.

Mrs. J. Fraser Jackson was narrator for the program, "Fads and Fashions." Pesented along "style show" lines, costumes from an 1895 wedding dress to a "Beat 'em Bucs" outfit were modeled. Along with clothing, other highlights of the era were featured from the "Charleston" dance to the megaphone crooning of Rudy Vallee.

Mrs. H. F. Banfield, Mrs. Robert Osmundsen and Mrs. K. W. Turner were models. Mrs. A. P. Faulkenstein provided background music. Lyrics were sung by Mrs. Pritchard. Mrs. William J. Horger was program chairman.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. P. W. Conrad and Mrs. Lee Bookwalter. The buffet table was decorated with an arrangement of Fuji mums and lighted yellow tapers. Mrs. M. D. McCutcheon presided at the silver tea service.

The Christmas dinner meeting will be held Dec. 11 at the Country Club. Medical Society members will be guests. Mrs. V. E. McEldowney will be chairman, Mrs. John Fraser, co-chairman, with Mrs. Janis Lauva, Mrs. G. A. Peller, Mrs. G. O. Kemeny, Mrs. A. L. Turner and Mrs. Bonistelli.

Charge Dismissed In Tavern Cutting

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today dismissed for lack of evidence a case in which a 32-year-old barmaid was charged with assault with a deadly weapon in connection with knife wounds suffered by a patron Oct. 19 in a Dresden Ave. tavern.

The action absolved Miss Thelma Hayes, 233 W. 9th St., who had been accused of wielding a butcher knife which wounded Mrs. Helen Webster, 38, of 403 Harrison St., Newell. The incident occurred in Roy's Bar.

Mrs. Webster failed to appear to testify in a scheduled hearing this morning and police said they could not locate her. Then Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark made a statement to the court proposing dismissal.

At the time of the incident, Miss Hayes told police Mrs. Webster hurled a bar stool when denied a drink. Mrs. Webster was cut atop the head and on the chin with a butcher knife. Miss Hayes also was injured, apparently on broken glass during a struggle behind the bar.

A famous New York oyster bar always adds celery salt to its oyster stew. Could be that this practice originated with the New England way of adding finely diced crisp white celery to panned oysters made with cream and sherry.

Zoning Plans For Midland Aired Publicly

Midland's new zoning ordinance, with few changes from the old one, was given its first public hearing Wednesday evening in the Borough Building. Some 18 attended.

Another public hearing on zoning will be held tonight at 7:30 in the Borough Building, followed by a public hearing on a land subdivision ordinance and regulations, with members of Council scheduled to attend.

Dr. Zanvel Sigal, chairman of the Planning Commission presided. James R. Woglom, representative of Morris Knowles, Inc., planning engineers and a charge of Midland's comprehensive plan, spoke briefly and answered questions.

Dr. Sigal said that the old ordinance will be dropped and there will be no amendments to it. He said that under the new ordinance, any regulations in effect now will be continued.

It was pointed out that a business building had to begin with at least two stories. Under the new ordinance, a business structure may begin with one story. Though offices may be allowed over a business, apartments or residential quarter are barred.

The new ordinance also include a change on Ohio Ave. from multiple family units and also provides additional land for industry. The new ordinance was drawn up with the rerouting of Route 68 in mind.

The zoning map includes areas for residential one-, two-and multiple family units, business and neighborhood service, business community trade, industrial and light manufacturing and industrial-community general.

After tonight's meeting, the zoning ordinance will be turned over to Council which will discuss it and hold a public hearing before adopting it.

Councilman Joseph Hibbard was present along with two members of the borough's Zoning Board of Appeals, Dominic Zuppe and Lawrence Andres. Crum Dimeff and Lloy Murphy of the Planning Commission were also present.

9 Apply For Exams In Midland Police List

Nine applicants will be given oral and written tests tonight at 7:30 in firemen's quarters in the Midland Borough Building to determine a new eligibility list for borough patrolman.

No opening exists now but the list is renewed each year in case a vacancy should occur.

Applicants include Mark Pike, Charles Sallis Jr., Charles Petties, John Allen Nott, Robert Zielinski, Leo Flara, George Manula, William Monac and William Vinovich Jr.

Benny Pultanovich, secretary of the Midland Police Civil Service Commission, will be in charge of tests. Scores will be available later in the borough secretary's office.

Youth Survives River Leap From Chester Bridge

Chester Patrolman Clarence Lennens said the youth climbed down from the bridge floor to the top of the stone pier at the south end of the span, then leaped into the chilly waters.

Jack Tarr, 813 Bank St., and Ross Lyle, 728 Oak St., were walking across the bridge when they thought they heard someone talking under the flooring. Shortly afterward, they heard a splash and saw the youth swimming for the Chester shore, calling for help.

The two hurried off the bridge and went to the edge of the embankment at the Chester Masonic Temple where they found the youth, who had apparently fainted from exhaustion after the tiring swim in the cold water and the climb up the bank.

Two men from the temple were also there, Lennens said. The officer was notified by phone from a nearby service station and took the shivering youth to the hospital in the police cruiser.

Lennens said the youth had taken his girlfriend home, phoned his father that he had parked the car at 1st St. and telling him to come and get the auto. The youth's shoes, jacket and billfold were found on the bridge.

Nice for a Sunday-night buffet: slice a cooked chicken and mold it in aspic made from chicken stock. At serving time garnish the unmolded jellied chicken with an abundance of minced parsley and some lemon slices.

Church Adopts Higher Budget, Elects Officers

A 1961 budget of $14,074, an increase of approximately $2,000 from the current year, was approved Wednesday night at a congregational meeting of the Longs Run United Presbyterian Church at Calcutta.

Session officers, who will serve as both elders and trustees, were elected for three-year terms. They are Ray Ward, Glenn McCullough, Albert Ward and Clarence Burtick. The Rev. R. K. Fogel, pastor, presided for the election of the Session officers.

William Holden, who was re-elected congregational chairman, presided for other business. Mrs. Dorothy Greenwood was re-elected church treasurer for the 13th year. Except for the Session, terms are for one year.

Committees elected were:

Auditing: Ray Entriken, Miss Julia Jo Barnhart and Mrs. Jean Thomas; welfare, Mrs. A. C. Lee, Mrs. Maude Dunn and Mrs. Marge Dray; nominating, Mrs. Barbara Dray, Mrs. Doris Thompson, Carl Kirkbride Jr. and Clarence Holden.

The meeting followed a covered-dish dinner attended by about 60. The annual congregational meeting will be Jan. 11, when reports will be presented.

Downtown Demonstration

New Street Lighting Makes It 'Bright As Day'

Bathed in the brillance radiated by three new street light fixtures, the center of East Liverpool's business district took on a "bright-as-day" appearance for both pedestrians and motorists Wednesday night.

The photos, a "before" and "after" view of the test strip on E. 5th St., show vividly the difference between 21-year-old light fixtures and a new installation that demonstrates the last word in business district lighting.

At the top is a view of E. 5th St., looking west toward the Diamond, as it appeared at night under the old lighting fixtures. The bottom view of the same stretch shows the brillance cast by three new fluorescent fixtures that were installed on a test basis yesterday and turned on for the first time last night.

Both photographs were taken from the roof of the Potters Bank & Trust Co. building.

Installation of the fixtures was arranged with the Ohio Power Co. by the East Liverpool Merchants Association to illustrate for businessmen, shoppers and motorists the difference between antiquated and modern lighting facilities. They will remain in place for several weeks.

The three fixtures formerly in place in the half - block stretch each produced 6,000 lumens, a utility company "yardstick" of light that is the equivalent to 600 candlepower. That meant the stretch received a total of 1,800 candlepower.

The new fluorescent fixtures each deliver 43,500 lumens, equivalent to 4,350 candlepower. The old fixtures were removed from the poles temporarily to permit installation of the new.

Each of the new lights carries four fluorescent tubes five feet long. The fixtures are mounted in the half - block stretch between Washington St. and Crook Alley. Two are on the south side of E. 5th at either end of the test strip and the other is on the north side at the midway point.

William Black, district manager of Ohio Power, said the fluorescent tubes are the highest output type manufactured today. No other city in the Ohio Power system has fluorescent fixtures of comparable output, he added.

The lighting demonstration is a project of the downtown improvement committee and the executive committee of ELMA, which include Don Eckert, Richard Kerin, Edwin Maloney, George A. Shaw, Leslie Blumenthal, Ralph A. Finley, Dayton Allen and E. C. Derr.

The ELMA committee said the demonstration was arranged with the help of City Council and the administration, as the officials are interested in the new lighting system.

Medical Society's Auxiliary Airs Education Fund Projects

Projects for the American Medical Education Fund were stressed at the meeting of the auxiliary of the Columbiana County Medical Society Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. C. W. Dewalt of Columbiana.

Mrs. R. J. Bonistelli, AMEF chairman, announced net Christmas trees will be sold along with holiday candles and brooms. She also reported proceeds from the recent card party. Anyone interested in the items may call the chairman.

Mrs. K. W. Turner, president, opened the meeting, reading a poem by Mrs. Marian Foster Smith, who will be speaker for the meeting of the City Federation of Women's Clubs Nov. 30 at the Mary Patterson Memorial.

Mrs. J. Fraser Jackson was narrator for the program, "Fads and Fashions." Pesented along "style show" lines, costumes from an 1895 wedding dress to a "Beat 'em Bucs" outfit were modeled. Along with clothing, other highlights of the era were featured from the "Charleston" dance to the megaphone crooning of Rudy Vallee.

Mrs. H. F. Banfield, Mrs. Robert Osmundsen and Mrs. K. W. Turner were models. Mrs. A. P. Faulkenstein provided background music. Lyrics were sung by Mrs. Pritchard. Mrs. William J. Horger was program chairman.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. P. W. Conrad and Mrs. Lee Bookwalter. The buffet table was decorated with an arrangement of Fuji mums and lighted yellow tapers. Mrs. M. D. McCutcheon presided at the silver tea service.

The Christmas dinner meeting will be held Dec. 11 at the Country Club. Medical Society members will be guests. Mrs. V. E. McEldowney will be chairman, Mrs. John Fraser, co-chairman, with Mrs. Janis Lauva, Mrs. G. A. Peller, Mrs. G. O. Kemeny, Mrs. A. L. Turner and Mrs. Bonistelli.

Charge Dismissed In Tavern Cutting

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today dismissed for lack of evidence a case in which a 32-year-old barmaid was charged with assault with a deadly weapon in connection with knife wounds suffered by a patron Oct. 19 in a Dresden Ave. tavern.

The action absolved Miss Thelma Hayes, 233 W. 9th St., who had been accused of wielding a butcher knife which wounded Mrs. Helen Webster, 38, of 403 Harrison St., Newell. The incident occurred in Roy's Bar.

Mrs. Webster failed to appear to testify in a scheduled hearing this morning and police said they could not locate her. Then Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark made a statement to the court proposing dismissal.

At the time of the incident, Miss Hayes told police Mrs. Webster hurled a bar stool when denied a drink. Mrs. Webster was cut atop the head and on the chin with a butcher knife. Miss Hayes also was injured, apparently on broken glass during a struggle behind the bar.

A famous New York oyster bar always adds celery salt to its oyster stew. Could be that this practice originated with the New England way of adding finely diced crisp white celery to panned oysters made with cream and sherry.

Zoning Plans For Midland Aired Publicly

Midland's new zoning ordinance, with few changes from the old one, was given its first public hearing Wednesday evening in the Borough Building. Some 18 attended.

Another public hearing on zoning will be held tonight at 7:30 in the Borough Building, followed by a public hearing on a land subdivision ordinance and regulations, with members of Council scheduled to attend.

Dr. Zanvel Sigal, chairman of the Planning Commission presided. James R. Woglom, representative of Morris Knowles, Inc., planning engineers and a charge of Midland's comprehensive plan, spoke briefly and answered questions.

Dr. Sigal said that the old ordinance will be dropped and there will be no amendments to it. He said that under the new ordinance, any regulations in effect now will be continued.

It was pointed out that a business building had to begin with at least two stories. Under the new ordinance, a business structure may begin with one story. Though offices may be allowed over a business, apartments or residential quarter are barred.

The new ordinance also include a change on Ohio Ave. from multiple family units and also provides additional land for industry. The new ordinance was drawn up with the rerouting of Route 68 in mind.

The zoning map includes areas for residential one-, two-and multiple family units, business and neighborhood service, business community trade, industrial and light manufacturing and industrial-community general.

After tonight's meeting, the zoning ordinance will be turned over to Council which will discuss it and hold a public hearing before adopting it.

Councilman Joseph Hibbard was present along with two members of the borough's Zoning Board of Appeals, Dominic Zuppe and Lawrence Andres. Crum Dimeff and Lloy Murphy of the Planning Commission were also present.

9 Apply For Exams In Midland Police List

Nine applicants will be given oral and written tests tonight at 7:30 in firemen's quarters in the Midland Borough Building to determine a new eligibility list for borough patrolman.

No opening exists now but the list is renewed each year in case a vacancy should occur.

Applicants include Mark Pike, Charles Sallis Jr., Charles Petties, John Allen Nott, Robert Zielinski, Leo Flara, George Manula, William Monac and William Vinovich Jr.

Benny Pultanovich, secretary of the Midland Police Civil Service Commission, will be in charge of tests. Scores will be available later in the borough secretary's office.

Youth Survives River Leap From Chester Bridge

A 19-year-old Calcutta area youth survived a leap from the Chester Bridge Wednesday night about 7, swimming to the West Virginia shore after making the jump in an apparent moment of despondency.

Chester Patrolman Clarence Lennens said the youth climbed down from the bridge floor to the top of the stone pier at the south end of the span, then leaped into the chilly waters.

His name was withheld because of his erratic behavior and a history of mental lapses.

Jack Tarr, 813 Bank St., and Ross Lyle, 728 Oak St., were walking across the bridge when they thought they heard someone talking under the flooring. Shortly afterward, they heard a splash and saw the youth swimming for the Chester shore, calling for help.

The two hurried off the bridge and went to the edge of the embankment at the Chester Masonic Temple where they found the youth, who had apparently fainted from exhaustion after the tiring swim in the cold water and the climb up the bank.

Two men from the temple were also there, Lennens said. The officer was notified by phone from a nearby service station and took the shivering youth to the hospital in the police cruiser.

Lennens said the youth had taken his girlfriend home, phoned his father that he had parked the car at 1st St. and telling him to come and get the auto. The youth's shoes, jacket and billfold were found on the bridge.

County Club Elects

Lawrence Sixt Heads OSU Alumni

Lawrence Sixt of East Liverpool was elected president of the Ohio State Alumni Club of Columbiana County at the annual dinner meeting Wednesday night at the Country Club.

Other officers elected were Paul Blair, vice president, and Mrs. Ann Polichene, secretary.

Dr. Jay Kinsey, Dr. Alpern and John Gilkes were named to three-year terms as directors. James Roslund, Eugene Hall and Mrs. Sidney Porter Jr. were elected to two-year terms, and Francis Cloran, Miss Shirley Hartt and Mrs. J. A. Monasky were named for one year.

Dr. Corbally, who was introduced by Dr. Alpern, told some 70 attending the affair, "Purchasing an educational program is much like buying anything else—you get what you pay for."

Outlining the university's role in meeting the future needs of higher education in Ohio, Dr. Corbally declared, "We often speak of Ohio State as a high quality university available to all Ohio young people and yet we are reaching the point where we are beyond the financial reach of many Ohio families."

Ohio is forcing its students to pay more for higher education than neighboring Midwest states, but at the same time is providing financial support for universities which is less than that in the other states, the speaker continued.

One of the university's problems is the tendency of many to believe the way to solve most of the higher education problems is to create new higher education institutions or spread certain programs throughout the state.

He termed it "unwise" to spread advanced programs leading to a doctor's degree throughout the state, and said the university also disagrees with the feeling that the cure for higher education ills is the establishment of a massive, tax-supported junior college system separate from the universities.

"Ohio State can continue to be a leader in American higher education — in teaching, research and service — or it can become just another school. The choice is ours."

Dr. Corbally was assisted by Hal Romer, a staff assistant who screened slides. He was presented a set of dishes by Gilkes on behalf of the organization.

Dr. Jay Kinsey urged alumni to continue their assistance to the development fund.

The invocation was given by Hall, followed by group singing led by Milton Watson with Mrs. Hazel Neiser as accompanist.

Hammondsville Family On Visit

Mr. and Mrs. Vance Sivard of Hammondsville spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown and family of Philipsburg.

Edna Carson is visiting her brother and sister-in-law, the Rev. and Mrs. Taylor Carson of Wexford, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dugan of Columbiana visited Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Young Sunday.

Mrs. Austin Grafton entertained a group of youngsters Saturday in honor of the seventh birthday anniversary of her son, Mark. Prizes were won by Charles Jackson, Byron Tedeschi and Sandy Burton. Lunch was served 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gough have moved to a home on Pine Grove Ridge.

Lisbon School Steps Detailed For Bond Vote

Steps which the Lisbon Village Board of Education would follow if it decides to seek a special election in March on a $300,000 bond issue were explained today by Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the Columbiana County Election Board.

Law requires the school board to file the proposal 110 days before the election with the county auditor's office, which will determine the levy that would be necessary to retire the bond issue. The auditor's office then certifies its estimate of the millage to the school board.

The Lisbon School Board Tuesday night discussed the possibility of proposing the issue to erect an addition to the McKinley School. The addition would provide 14 classrooms and 2 restrooms at the rear of the elementary school.

O'Hanlon explained that the school board would be required to bear virtually all the cost of the voting if the issue is submitted at a special election. He estimated the cost at $1,500 to $1,600, including pay of precinct personnel, ballots, rental of polling places and transportation of equipment.

If held on the same day as the May primary, the election would cost the school district $600 to $700 less. That's because the school board would not be charged for most of the expenses in Lisbon, where a primary is scheduled on that date.

However, it would be billed for most of the election expenses in adjoining township precincts, as there will be no primaries there. The school district includes 6 precincts in the village, 3 in Center Township and 2 in Elkrun Township.

No Radiation Threat Seen From A-Plant

Midland and other cities along the Ohio River are apparently safe from any radiation from materials emptied into the Ohio River from the Duquesne Light Co.'s Shippingport atomic power plant.

That was the point made at a meeting of the Midland Municipal Authority Wednesday evening by R. M. Forssell, manager of the Shippingport branch office of the Atomic Energy Commission; E. D. Harward, sanitary engineer of the Pittsburgh office of the U. S. Public Health Service, and W. F. Wirth, health physicist of Duquesne.

Samples are taken of materials being treated for disposal and before any discharge, which is mixed with water and emptied into the river, it is checked and a permit made out.

It was brought out that the radiation discharge is so small that it can not be detected downstream. Surveys are made all along the river.

The U. S. Public Health Department samples air and water and has found nothing of significance.

The plant has a permit from the state and charts indicated that the amount of radioactive materials discharged is far below the permissible amount.

Any concentrated radioactive material is taken to the ocean for burial. The air is also sampled for its amount of radiation.

Granville Kester, Michael Baker Jr., Inc. consulting engineer, presented the authority with a tentative budget for next year which showed a $10,000 drop in expected revenue and capital improvements of $30,000. Total expenses are expected to be about $144,000 compared to about $145,000 this year. The supply of water the Crucible Steel Co. will need is expected to drop some.

The tentative budget was asked so the authority might know what it can offer in a new contract for water department employes, which expired Oct. 1.

The employes' union representative will be contacted to set up a meeting with the authority labor committee headed by Rudolph Presutti, who is vice president and presided last night.

Auditors will begin their audit of the authority on Jan. 12. The organizational meeting will be Jan. 10.

Bills were ordered paid. Next meeting is Dec. 21.

No Radiation Threat Seen From A-Plant

Midland and other cities along the Ohio River are apparently safe from any radiation from materials emptied into the Ohio River from the Duquesne Light Co.'s Shippingport atomic power plant.

That was the point made at a meeting of the Midland Municipal Authority Wednesday evening by R. M. Forssell, manager of the Shippingport branch office of the Atomic Energy Commission; E. D. Harward, sanitary engineer of the Pittsburgh office of the U. S. Public Health Service, and W. F. Wirth, health physicist of Duquesne.

Authority members were told that samples of the Ohio River are taken continuously for any radioactivity.

Samples are taken of materials being treated for disposal and before any discharge, which is mixed with water and emptied into the river, it is checked and a permit made out.

It was brought out that the radiation discharge is so small that it can not be detected downstream. Surveys are made all along the river.

The U. S. Public Health Department samples air and water and has found nothing of significance.

The plant has a permit from the state and charts indicated that the amount of radioactive materials discharged is far below the permissible amount.

Any concentrated radioactive material is taken to the ocean for burial. The air is also sampled for its amount of radiation.

Granville Kester, Michael Baker Jr., Inc. consulting engineer, presented the authority with a tentative budget for next year which showed a $10,000 drop in expected revenue and capital improvements of $30,000. Total expenses are expected to be about $144,000 compared to about $145,000 this year. The supply of water the Crucible Steel Co. will need is expected to drop some.

No New Taxes Due For Ohio, Key Men Say

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Here's a happy note for taxpayers: Ohio's legislative leaders—both Democrat and Republican—think the 1961 legislature may convene, carry on and adjourn without enacting any new taxes.

Six of the next General Assembly's key men, four Democrats and two Republicans, came to that agreement Wednesday at the annual meeting of the Ohio State Council of Retail Merchants.

C. Stanley Mechem, R-Athens, who is expected to lead the Republican majority in the Ohio Senate, said he anticipates no new taxes. He added:

"I'm not going to try to justify the taxes passed by the last assembly. I didn't vote for them. It seems to me to be a question of cutting back the demands to where they should be cut."

Frank W. King, D-Lucas, likely to be Senate minority leader, said: "it is my estimate that we will end up the biennium as we hoped, on a pay-as-you-go basis. It depends on what people want."

Roger Cloud, R - Logan, candidate for House majority leader, said he couldn't look into the future and say that new taxes would be needed. But he said financial demands such as those in the education field probably could be met within the present revenue base.

Senate Taxation Committee Chairman Stephen R. Olenick, D-Mahoning, and House Finance Committee Chairman A. G. Lancione, D-Belmont, agreed that new taxes are unnecessary.

As part of the meeting, the merchants' council membership re-elected H. Glenn Duis of Portsmouth as president, Jacob E. Davis of Cincinnati as vice president and James V. Walker of Columbus as treasurer. About 3,000 merchants in the department, drug grocery, shoe and other merchandising fields belong.

Woman And 2 Youths Fined In Morals Case

LISBON — An East Palestine woman and two Negley youths, charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors, changed their pleas Wednesday and were fined by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin, who gave them suspended jail sentences.

Nancy Straley, 21, of 450 E. North St., was fined $150 and sentenced to 6 months in Women's Reformatory at Marysville.

Raymond Noel and Eugene Robb, each 20, were fined $100 and $150 respectively. Noel was sentenced to 2 months in the County Jail and Robb to 3 months.

The sentences were suspended on condition that they be of good behavior in the future. They were cited by East Palestine police for contributing to the delinquency of two girls, 14-16. The trio and four others had pleaded innocent Monday. Hearings for the others will be held Dec. 1.

No New Taxes Due For Ohio, Key Men Say

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Here's a happy note for taxpayers: Ohio's legislative leaders—both Democrat and Republican—think the 1961 legislature may convene, carry on and adjourn without enacting any new taxes.

Six of the next General Assembly's key men, four Democrats and two Republicans, came to that agreement Wednesday at the annual meeting of the Ohio State Council of Retail Merchants.

C. Stanley Mechem, R-Athens, who is expected to lead the Republican majority in the Ohio Senate, said he anticipates no new taxes. He added:

"I'm not going to try to justify the taxes passed by the last assembly. I didn't vote for them. It seems to me to be a question of cutting back the demands to where they should be cut."

Frank W. King, D-Lucas, likely to be Senate minority leader, said: "it is my estimate that we will end up the biennium as we hoped, on a pay-as-you-go basis. It depends on what people want."

Roger Cloud, R - Logan, candidate for House majority leader, said he couldn't look into the future and say that new taxes would be needed. But he said financial demands such as those in the education field probably could be met within the present revenue base.

Senate Taxation Committee Chairman Stephen R. Olenick, D-Mahoning, and House Finance Committee Chairman A. G. Lancione, D-Belmont, agreed that new taxes are unnecessary.

As part of the meeting, the merchants' council membership re-elected H. Glenn Duis of Portsmouth as president, Jacob E. Davis of Cincinnati as vice president and James V. Walker of Columbus as treasurer. About 3,000 merchants in the department, drug grocery, shoe and other merchandising fields belong.

Woman And 2 Youths Fined In Morals Case

LISBON — An East Palestine woman and two Negley youths, charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors, changed their pleas Wednesday and were fined by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin, who gave them suspended jail sentences.

Nancy Straley, 21, of 450 E. North St., was fined $150 and sentenced to 6 months in Women's Reformatory at Marysville.

Raymond Noel and Eugene Robb, each 20, were fined $100 and $150 respectively. Noel was sentenced to 2 months in the County Jail and Robb to 3 months.

The sentences were suspended on condition that they be of good behavior in the future. They were cited by East Palestine police for contributing to the delinquency of two girls, 14-16. The trio and four others had pleaded innocent Monday. Hearings for the others will be held Dec. 1.

Hagerty Skips Reports He'll Take ABC Job

NEW YORK (AP) — White House press secretary James C. Hagerty has refused to confirm or deny reports he will take over as vice president in charge of the American Broadcasting Company's news and public affairs department.

Veteran broadcaster John Daly resigned the post Wednesday, and his resignation was promptly accepted by ABC.

Officially, ABC would make no comment on reports that Hagerty would take over Daly's position after his duties end with the Eisenhower administration.

At President Eisenhower's vacation headquarters in Augusta, Ga., Hagerty said only: "When I have any announcement about my future plans, I'll let you know."

Daly, a top executive with ABC the past seven years, submitted his resignation to be effective in one month. His role as moderator of the Columbia Broadcasting System's "What's My Line?" will not be affected.

Daly said he was quitting ABC because of a "fundamental difference on policy" with ABC President Leonard Goldenson.

ABC said only that Daly's resignation has been accepted and announced the temporary appointment of Thomas Velotta, vice president in charge of special affairs for the ABC news and public affairs department.

Daly was said to have opposed the showing by ABC of a "Bugs Bunny" film and "The Rifleman" early on election night while other networks were concentrating on election returns.

Daly's yearly income from all his broadcasting activities has been estimated in industry circles at about $250,000. The same sources indicated his job as ABC vice president earned him around $50,000 annually.

Rockefeller Kin Sees Economic Factors 'Good'

CLEVELAND (AP)—The youngest son of the late John D. Rockefeller Jr. says the new Democratic administration will be taking over at a time when factors working for impressive economic growth and prosperity in the United States are substantial.

David Rockefeller, vice chairman of the Chase Manhattan Bank and a brother of New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, voiced this opinion Wednesday night in a speech to the Cleveland Treasurers' Club.

He further indicated broad national support is needed for policies that will encourage advance. Rockefeller, who will become Chase president Jan. 1, urged President-elect John F. Kennedy to take action in three fields:

—To increase investment in new plants and equipment.

—To solve the balance of international payments problem.

—To step up management development in business and government.

Action also must be taken promptly, Rockefeller said, to make certain the integrity of the dollar is maintained. This means we must control inflation by realistic monetary policies, he said.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Exercise Helps Improve Figure

Exercise plays the beauty role in reducing. Precision calisthenics are slimming; diet is reducing. There's a sizeable difference. Slimming refers to inches — reducing to pounds.

By Ida Jean Kain

What happens when you diet but shun exercise? Well, the fat comes off the places where it can be least spared ...and clings to the spots where it has been living longest. For most overweights it is not a question of diet or exercise, but a combination of both that brings beautiful results. Regular exercise can help you to look and be slim, firm and shapely.

WITH FLABBY muscles, sooner or later the figure gets soft around the edges and measurements spread. Then too, exercise is a circulation rouser, and good muscle tone and active circulation enhance well-being.

Summed up: With exercise alone, you can tone muscles and slim measurements. With diet alone, you lose weight but do not tone the muscles. Back up diet with shape-ups and you can lose pounds and bulky inches.

If you are toting a considerable amount of excess poundage, ask your doctor's advice about exercising. He may suggest passive exercise in which the machines do the work. He is quite likely to advise walking.

Lying on back on floor, simply stretch, pushing down with toes, stretching arms back on floor... pull. Stretch again, and twist and turn gently until you feel the stretch clear to your toes.

From same position, lying on back on floor, flex both knees and keep soles of feet flat on floor. Raise hips just slightly off floor, tilt them up toward the right as you pull-in forcibly with the side-front muscles.

RETURN TO center, tilt hips to the left side and again pull up and in strongly. Repeat 6 to 10 times, alternating sides.

Send a stamped, self - addressed envelope for "Away With Middle Spread." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

'Circus' Of Stuffed Animals Used In Book Week Program

"Books are Fun" is the theme of the annual observance of Children's Book Week now under way at the Carnegie Public Library.

The principal aim of Book Week is to draw attention to the fine type of literature currently published for boys and girls and to encourage their purchase as gifts, according to Miss Frances Jones, librarian.

The library's display includes new titles by favorite authors such as Tash Tudor's "Becky's Birthday," "The Great All Star Animal League," written by Vince Starrett and illustrated by Kurt Wiese, and Helen Sattley's pictorial fantasy, "The Day the Empire State Went Visiting."

New editions of old favorites also are featured — Shirley Temple's "Favorite Tales of Long Ago," a handsome rewriting of Andrew Lang's "Blue Fairy Book" with illustrations by Grace Clarke, and new Junior Library editions of "Tom Sawyer," "Little Women" and "Robin Hood." A recommended list of 250 titles, "Growing Up With Books," is available for parents.

Special privileges and activities are in store for youngsters who visit the display. Reserve postals may be filed if a boy or girl would like to be among the first to read certain of the new books.

If a child would like to qualify as a "master reader," on two successive Saturdays — Nov. 19 and Nov. 26 — the librarian will offer a written quiz on great classics of children's literature.

Three top awards will be given in the form of fine editions of great books. The quiz will be from 3 to 4 p.m. each day.

The book "circus" display will be extended through Dec. 5 so that teachers who wish to bring classes and parents who work will have ample opportunity to visit, Miss Jones said. Visitors may "peek in the keyhole and down the rabbit hole" to meet Alice in Wonderland" and her friends in a display in the library vestibule.

Veterans Reminded On Address Changes

A. G. Bille, contact representative at the Veterans Administration office at Steubenville, issued a reminder today on notice of change of address.

"If you are one of the 3-million veterans who get regular monthly benefit checks from the Veterans Administration and you are thinking of moving to a new address, be sure to notify both the Veterans Administration and the Post Office before you make that move!

"Benefit checks can be forwarded by the Post Office now, in case of a change of address, if the Post Office has an address to which it can forward your check. When moving, contact the Veterans Administration Office, 227 N. 5th St., Steubenville, to be sure your checks will come regularly."

OSU Economist Due At County Farm Event

LISBON — Lester Arnold, economist at Ohio State University, will discuss father - son farming agreements and farm incorporations at a meeting at 8 p. m. Dec. 1 at St. George's Parish Hall, according to Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture.

A local attorney will also assist with the legal questions covering the agreements.

Farmer interest has been mounting in these areas in father - son agreements and incorporations, as the farm capital investments continue to rise, and anyone interested in hearing these farm agreement plans discussed should attend, Myers said.

Keep In Trim

Exercise Helps Improve Figure

By Ida Jean Kain

What happens when you diet but shun exercise? Well, the fat comes off the places where it can be least spared ...and clings to the spots where it has been living longest. For most overweights it is not a question of diet or exercise, but a combination of both that brings beautiful results. Regular exercise can help you to look and be slim, firm and shapely.

WITH FLABBY muscles, sooner or later the figure gets soft around the edges and measurements spread. Then too, exercise is a circulation rouser, and good muscle tone and active circulation enhance well-being.

Summed up: With exercise alone, you can tone muscles and slim measurements. With diet alone, you lose weight but do not tone the muscles. Back up diet with shape-ups and you can lose pounds and bulky inches.

If you are toting a considerable amount of excess poundage, ask your doctor's advice about exercising. He may suggest passive exercise in which the machines do the work. He is quite likely to advise walking.

This trio of exercise is effective without being rugged.

Lying on back on floor, simply stretch, pushing down with toes, stretching arms back on floor... pull. Stretch again, and twist and turn gently until you feel the stretch clear to your toes.

From same position, lying on back on floor, flex both knees and keep soles of feet flat on floor. Raise hips just slightly off floor, tilt them up toward the right as you pull-in forcibly with the side-front muscles.

RETURN TO center, tilt hips to the left side and again pull up and in strongly. Repeat 6 to 10 times, alternating sides.

Send a stamped, self - addressed envelope for "Away With Middle Spread." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

'Circus' Of Stuffed Animals Used In Book Week Program

"Books are Fun" is the theme of the annual observance of Children's Book Week now under way at the Carnegie Public Library.

The principal aim of Book Week is to draw attention to the fine type of literature currently published for boys and girls and to encourage their purchase as gifts, according to Miss Frances Jones, librarian.

The library's display includes new titles by favorite authors such as Tash Tudor's "Becky's Birthday," "The Great All Star Animal League," written by Vince Starrett and illustrated by Kurt Wiese, and Helen Sattley's pictorial fantasy, "The Day the Empire State Went Visiting."

New editions of old favorites also are featured — Shirley Temple's "Favorite Tales of Long Ago," a handsome rewriting of Andrew Lang's "Blue Fairy Book" with illustrations by Grace Clarke, and new Junior Library editions of "Tom Sawyer," "Little Women" and "Robin Hood." A recommended list of 250 titles, "Growing Up With Books," is available for parents.

Special privileges and activities are in store for youngsters who visit the display. Reserve postals may be filed if a boy or girl would like to be among the first to read certain of the new books.

If a child would like to qualify as a "master reader," on two successive Saturdays — Nov. 19 and Nov. 26 — the librarian will offer a written quiz on great classics of children's literature.

Three top awards will be given in the form of fine editions of great books. The quiz will be from 3 to 4 p.m. each day.

The book "circus" display will be extended through Dec. 5 so that teachers who wish to bring classes and parents who work will have ample opportunity to visit, Miss Jones said. Visitors may "peek in the keyhole and down the rabbit hole" to meet Alice in Wonderland" and her friends in a display in the library vestibule.

Veterans Reminded On Address Changes

A. G. Bille, contact representative at the Veterans Administration office at Steubenville, issued a reminder today on notice of change of address.

"If you are one of the 3-million veterans who get regular monthly benefit checks from the Veterans Administration and you are thinking of moving to a new address, be sure to notify both the Veterans Administration and the Post Office before you make that move!

"Benefit checks can be forwarded by the Post Office now, in case of a change of address, if the Post Office has an address to which it can forward your check. When moving, contact the Veterans Administration Office, 227 N. 5th St., Steubenville, to be sure your checks will come regularly."

OSU Economist Due At County Farm Event

LISBON — Lester Arnold, economist at Ohio State University, will discuss father - son farming agreements and farm incorporations at a meeting at 8 p. m. Dec. 1 at St. George's Parish Hall, according to Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture.

A local attorney will also assist with the legal questions covering the agreements.

Farmer interest has been mounting in these areas in father - son agreements and incorporations, as the farm capital investments continue to rise, and anyone interested in hearing these farm agreement plans discussed should attend, Myers said.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

One-Parent Homes Have Many Problems

In the United States about one out of ten children lives in a one-parent home; about one in 14 lives in a fatherless home. These include homes of women who are separated, divorced, widowed or who have borne children out of wedlock. Despite their handicap, some of these children grow up to be relatively well-adjusted, happy persons. However, none would deny that, for children, the best place to grow up is in the home with two parents who enjoy each other as well as their children.

Dr. Garry Meyers

But, as parents who are happily married know, there are lots of problems in bringing up a child wisely and well.

There are also motherless children, but they are not so numerous as fatherless children. Besides, "mother substitutes" are often available in our society. Domestic workers, babysitters and teachers, in the main, are women.

In our culture, the days are passing when parents and children, grandparents, aunts, uncles and cousins live under the same roof or near one another, when the absence of a father was not always as serious as it is today.

WHEN THE child is left with only one parent, whether by divorce, desertion or death, his loss is usually very great. The parent who is left needs to give careful thought to finding people who can offer the child experiences he now lacks — especially people of the opposite sex to the remaining parent, and who can give him needed warmth of companionship.

These may include the leader of a youth group, an uncle, grandparents, family friend, a school teacher or college student who comes regularly to lead the child and a number of his playmates in some organized fun or who goes skating or hiking or camping with them.

And while girls may need some contacts with mature young women,, they also need often to be in groups where wholesome, mature, manly men are present and especially to be often in homes with other children and these children's fathers and mothers.

IF OPPORTUNITIES and desire for remarriage arise, the single parent may thereby help fulfill some of the children's needs if the new marriage is contemplated with the happiness and well-being of the growing children in mind. And it's wonderful when the foster father or mother is warmly accepted by the children.

My bulletin "Fathers Are Parents, Too" may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Girl Joins Orchestra; Sister On Dean's List

Miss Joan Gilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gilson of the Crockery City Farm area, has won a place on the University of Kansas Symphony Orchestra and her sister, Miss Delila Gilson, has been placed on the dean's list at Boston (Mass.) University, where she is majoring in organ and church choral work.

A 1959 graduate of East Liverpool High School, she was piano accompanist for the High School Choir and served as concert mistress for two years for the orchestra.

Delila is a 1957 graduate of East Liverpool High School. She will give her senior recital Dec. 12 at St. Paul's Church in Cambridge, Mass.

Her parents, owners of Gilson Market in LaCroft, plan to attend.

Lisbon Service Set

LISBON — "Interruptions" will be the topic of the final service of the series tonight at 7 at the Trinity United Presbyterian Church. The hour-long event will include a song service and "garden of prayer."

Brown scored only one touchdown in its first four games this fall, then trounced Rhode Island, 36-14.

Hookstown Group Airs Fund Raising Projects

Plans to raise funds were discussed at a meeting of the South Side Athletic Club Tuesday evening in the American Legion home near Hookstown.

William (Bud) Green, president, and Paul Verzella were appointed to make plans for a round and square dance. Larry Weigle volunteered to attend a Hot Stove League meeting Sunday at Alliance.

Next meeting is Nov. 29 at 8 p. m. at the Legion Hall.

IF OPPORTUNITIES and desire for remarriage arise, the single parent may thereby help fulfill some of the children's needs if the new marriage is contemplated with the happiness and well-being of the growing children in mind. And it's wonderful when the foster father or mother is warmly accepted by the children.

Girl Joins Orchestra; Sister On Dean's List

Miss Joan Gilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gilson of the Crockery City Farm area, has won a place on the University of Kansas Symphony Orchestra and her sister, Miss Delila Gilson, has been placed on the dean's list at Boston (Mass.) University, where she is majoring in organ and church choral work.

A 1959 graduate of East Liverpool High School, she was piano accompanist for the High School Choir and served as concert mistress for two years for the orchestra.

Delila is a 1957 graduate of East Liverpool High School. She will give her senior recital Dec. 12 at St. Paul's Church in Cambridge, Mass.

Her parents, owners of Gilson Market in LaCroft, plan to attend.

Lisbon Service Set

LISBON — "Interruptions" will be the topic of the final service of the series tonight at 7 at the Trinity United Presbyterian Church. The hour-long event will include a song service and "garden of prayer."

Brown scored only one touchdown in its first four games this fall, then trounced Rhode Island, 36-14.

Hookstown Group Airs Fund Raising Projects

Plans to raise funds were discussed at a meeting of the South Side Athletic Club Tuesday evening in the American Legion home near Hookstown.

William (Bud) Green, president, and Paul Verzella were appointed to make plans for a round and square dance. Larry Weigle volunteered to attend a Hot Stove League meeting Sunday at Alliance.

Next meeting is Nov. 29 at 8 p. m. at the Legion Hall.
